

125 More Difficult (But Essential) Words

Abate (n.) Abatements	The salesman could not abate the price of the automobile, without conferring with the manager. (To decrease in value or amount)
Abhor (+ ing) (n.) Abhorrence (adj) Abhorrent (adv) Abhorrently	Many people abhor handling snakes. I abhor eating uncooked fish. (Detest, Hate, Dislike, to regard with extreme) I could not conceal my abhorrence.
Acclimate (+ to) (n.) acclimation	It is difficult for the human body to acclimate to abrupt changes in temperature. (Adapt, Adjust)
Affluent (n.) Affluence	Children are living in an affluent society with too many games and toys. (Rich, wealthy, well-off, having material wealth)
Alleviate (n.) Alleviation	New drugs to alleviate pain. (Relieve, Lesson, Diminish, lessen, make more bearable), alleviate poverty/ food shortage in Africa. The government tried to alleviate the rate of unemployment.
Antithesis(+ of) (adj) Antithetical	The antithesis of fair play. (Opposite, Contrast). Joy is the antithesis of sorrow.
Avid (n.) Avidity (n.) Avidness	I am avidly awaiting the coming of Norooz. (Enthusiastic, Keen, eager, ardent, Eager) English teachers encourage their students to be avid readers.
Belligerent	Belligerent nations (Warlike)
Benevolent (n.) Benevolence	His benevolent works made his ... (Generous, charitable)
Benign (n.) Benignity	The weather is benign to(Favorable, safe, Kind, Good-hearted)

Cajole	The mother cajoled her child (To persuade with flattery, To coax)
Candor	An open mind and candor are qualities(Honest, Sincerity)
Coerce	He can not coerce the voters to vote for her, she used persuasion. (To restrain or dominate by force)
Condone (n.) Condonation (Adj) Condonable	The world should not condone war crimes. (Overlook, Pardon, To excuse)
Corpulent (n.) Corpulence	A recent survey revealed that many Americans are corpulent because they eat large portions at meals. (Fat, Obese)
Criterion (+ for)	Major criterion for membership (Measure)
Culpable	He was not culpable. (Guilty)
Cursory (n.) Cursorness (adv) Cursorily	He does everything quite cursorily. (Hasty, superficial)
Duress(+under)	She signed the confession under duress. (Coercion, compulsion, by force)
Emulate (n.) Emulation	The Microsoft Windows system is regarded as the most efficient program for personal computers, therefore, and all software companies want to emulate it. (To copy, imitate)
Exacerbate (n.) Exacerbation	The noise exacerbated my headache. (Worsen, make bitten, severe, aggravate)
Exhort (Adj) Exhortatory (n.) Exhortation	We exhorted Reza to give up opium. (Incite by argument or advice).
Expedite (n.) Expedition (adj) expeditious	In order to expedite the dam-building project. This road will expedite traffic. (Speed up, to execute prompt)

Fallacious (adv) fallaciously	Fallacious reasoning /arguments(Misleading, Deceiving, wrong, false, mistaken)
Garrulous (n.) garrulousness	Garrulous guests/neighbors (talkative, wordy)
Impasse (adj) Impassable	The negotiations reached an impasse. (No obvious escape, deadlock).
Imbibe (n.) Imbibition	He could imbibe a whole bottle of Vodka. To imbibe new ideas. (To receive into the mind and retain, drink)
Impeccable (n.) Impeccability (adv) Impeccably	Our pronunciation cannot impeccable. (flawless, free from fault or blame)
Indigent (n.) Indigence (Adv) Indigently	The indigent population in Iran has benefited from the liberal welfare laws. (Poor, impoverished, Needy, Destitute)
Indolent (n.) indolence	The indolent boy would not take part in the difficult task of(Lazy, sluggish, slow, inactive)
Inept (n.) Ineptness (n.) Ineptitude	Inept lawyer. (Incompetent, lacking in fitness or aptitude)
Insolent (adj) Insolently (n.) Insolence	Insolent behavior toward(impudent, arrogant, bold)
Intrepid (n.) Intrepidity (adv) intrepidly	He displayed intrepid courage. (fearless, brave)

Itinerary	No matter what our itinerary says. (travel plan)
Judicious (adv) Judiciously (n.) judiciousness	A judicious investment brought him considerate profit. (Showing good judgment, wise, prudent, sensible) Judicious decision/move
Lament (adj) Lamentable (adv) Lamentably (n.) Lamentation	They lamented the death of their leader. The national lament for (to mourn, wail)
Lucid	Lucid explantation (clear, transparent, mentally sound)
Lucrative (n.) Lucrativeness	A lucrative investment. (Profitable) A source of lucrative revenue
Ludicrous (adv) Ludicrously (n.) ludicrousness	It is simply ludicrous to think(Silly, Absurd, Laughable)
Mediate (n.) Mediation (adj) Mediating	When my sister and I quarrel, mom steps in to mediate. (resolve differences)
Nomad	Since buying the mobile home, we live the lives of nomads. (wander)
Meticulous (adv) Meticulously (n.) Meticulousness	He gave meticulous attention to our (very careful about details, scrupulous) Hard to believe Hard to forget/understand
Mundane	He has little time for mundane matters. Mundane details bore me. Mundane affairs. (concerned with the ordinary, banal)

Nonchalant (adv) Nonchalantly (n.) Nonchalance	We were all excited about the game but Elien remained nonchalant. (indifferent, cool)
Obsolete	Obsolete equipment (outdated, worn out, no longer in use)
Onus (n.) Onuses	It is the onus of every student to(burden, obligation, duty, Responsibility)
Ostensible	Ostensibly, he took the job to gain experience. (Apparent)
Panacea (+ for)	Money is not the panacea that we think. (cure-all, remedy for everything) The drug is useful, but it was no panacea for the troubling disease.
Parsimonious (adv) Parsimoniously (n.) Parsimiouness	He resented being called parsimonious. (Cheap, Stingy, Miserly)
Paucity (+ of)	Their enthusiasm compensated for the paucity of their numbers. We encounter the paucity of a really good teacher. The paucity of dancing talent. (shortage, scarceness, lack)
Peruse	If we peruse the course of history (to read carefully)
Plausible	A plausible excuse/ alibi(conceivable , apparently believable)
Procrastinate (n.) Procrastination (adj) Procrastinative	One cannot procrastinate when paying income taxes. (delay, postpone)
Prognosticate (n.) prognostication	To prognosticate a rosy future (predict)

Prolific (n.) Prolificacy (n.) Prolificness (V.) Proliferate	Prolific animals A prolific writer Prolific of pines (fertile, producing much, plentiful, abundant)
Rabid (n.) Rabidness (adv) rabidly	A rabid football fan (fanatical, furious, infected with rabies)
Rendezvous	I have a rendezvous with him tonight. (meeting place, meeting by arrangement)
Rescind (adj) rescindable (n.) Rescindment	He tried to rescind his order but it was too late. (cancel, repeat)
Sanguine (n.) sanguineness	I am not sanguine about our team's future. Sanguine about wall st. He invested heavily. (Confident, hopeful, optimistic)
Slander	Those who have tried to slander the actor have paid for it in court. (false and injurious statement made about another, defame).
Taciturn (n.) Taciturnity	The taciturn president was a man of few words. (Silent, reserved, uncommunicative) Taciturn ≠ Garrulous
Terse (n.) Terseness	A terse statement (concise, brief to the point, succinct, short)
Utopia	They hope to set up a utopia. (paradise, a place where everything is perfect).
Vacillate (adj) Vacillating (n.) Vacillation (adv) Vacillatingly	If you vacillate, the opportunity will disappear. (To wave back and forth, fluctuate) His vacillation

Volatile	The stock market has been quite volatile. Volatile economy conditions. Alcohol is volatile. (changeable, explosive)
	Heart disease / Diabetes / Obesity Paternalism At will Contribue to, (n.) contribute