- Explain why this problem is inconvenient for you.
- Ask them to send the correct item or give you a refund.

I recently ordered a blender from your online store, Unfortunately, I received the wrong item, instead of the blender, I received a microwave. As a result, this issue made me disappointed because I was looking forward to use it today in my birthday party. Therefore, I would greatly appreciate it if you could send the correct item as soon as possible or provide a full refund for this order.

R] You recently started working at your university library. Although you enjoy the job and appreciate your manager's support, you have noticed that your work schedule conflicts with your class schedule. Write an email to your manager, Mr. Davis.

- Thank him for his support and guidance.
- Explain why the current work schedule is inconvenient for you.
- Suggest a different work schedule that would work better for you.

I am writing to thank you for giving me the opportunity to work at the library. I really appreciate your support and guidance during my first week at work. unfortunately, I recently noticed a conflict between my work schedules and my classes at university, and it is difficult to reschedule my classes. Therefore, I would like to ask if it would be possible to adjust my working hours to the afternoon or evening. I believe this schedule will help me manage both work and study more effectively.

R] You recently completed a pharmacy internship at a healthcare company. Write an email to your internship supervisor, Mr. Johnson.

- thank him for the internship opportunity
- explain what you learned or gained from the experience
- ask if he could write a recommendation letter for your new job application

I am writing to thank you for giving me the opportunity to complete my pharmacy internship at your company. Firstly, I really appreciate your guidance and support during my internship. This opportunity inspired me to be more dedicated and interested in clinical pharmacy. Moreover, this chance helped me to improve my clinical skills in an inpatient setting, such as managing drug interaction and making effective intervention. Additionally, I would like to ask you if you could write a recommendation letter for my new job at DMC hospital.

24] You are a regular customer at a local bakery and have always enjoyed their products. Recently, you bought a cake for your favorite professor, but it did not meet your expectations. You want to provide feedback to the bakery owner, Ms. Lopez, and suggest improvements.

- Explain what you usually enjoy about their products.
- Describe the issues you had with your recent cake purchase.
- Suggest how they could improve the quality of their cakes.

I am writing to share my feedback as a regular customer of your bakery. I have always enjoyed the freshness and quality of your products, especially your pastries. However, the cake I recently purchased did not meet my expectations. It was too dry and lacked flavor. Therefore, I suggest improving the texture and ensuring consistent quality. I would also recommend checking cakes before selling them.

It was a pleasure meeting you at the career faire on the campus. I am writing to express my strong interest in your company and to apply for the pharmacy internship program. My qualifications and skills match the program requirements, as I hold a PharmD degree and have three years of experience in hospital pharmacy. Additionally, I would greatly appreciate it if you could share more details about the application process, required documents, and the registration deadline.

R) You recently joined a new yoga class at your local community center. The instructor, Mr. Davis, has been very welcoming and helpful. However, you find the class schedule inconvenient and would prefer if the classes were held at a different time that fits better with your daily routine

- Thank him for his support and guidance in the yoga class.
- Explain why the current class schedule is inconvenient for you.
- Suggest alternative times that would work better for you and possibly other participants

I hope you are doing well. I am writing to thank you for your support and guidance in the yoga class. You have been very welcoming and helpful. However, I recently noticed that my current class schedule conflicts with my university classes. Therefore, I would like to suggest changing the class time from the morning to the afternoon. This time would be more convenient and many other students as well.

R) You attended a university library workshop yesterday. After returning home, you realized you left your notebook there.

- Explain where and when you think you left
- Describe the notebook
- Ask how you can get it back

I am writing to respectfully request your help regarding my notebook. Unfortunately, I lost my notebook during the workshop held yesterday evening. I remember the last time I had it was 8 p.m. on the first floor in room 3 near the main entrance. For more details, it is blue with red lines on the cover. Moreover, it has around 200 yellow pages and my class notes inside. Finally, I would greatly appreciate it if you could help me to check whether you found it and let me know how I can get it back.

R) You cannot attend a group meeting scheduled for tomorrow because of a work shift. Write an email to your professor.

- Explain why you cannot attend
- Apologize politely
- Ask about another way to complete the work

I am writing regarding the group meeting scheduled for tomorrow. Unfortunately, I cannot attend because I have an important medical appointment with the dentist. I tried to reschedule it, but I was unable to find a close available time.

I sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this may cause. Additionally, I would greatly appreciate it if we could arrange another way for me to complete the required work.

R) You were supposed to give a short presentation in class next week. However, you recently became ill, and your doctor advised you to rest for several days. Write an email to your professor. In your email:

- Explain why you cannot give the presentation as scheduled
- Apologies politely
- Ask about another possible date or alternative assignment

I am writing regarding the upcoming presentation scheduled for next week. Unfortunately, I am unable to present because I have recently become ill, and my doctor has advised me to rest for several days. I explained that I have an important academic presentation, but he strongly recommended that I must remain at home until fully recover. Therefore, I sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this may cause. Finally, I would greatly appreciate it if an alternative date or another way to complete the assignment could be arranged.

I would greatly appreciate it if and

R) You attended a university career fair yesterday evening. After returning home, you realized that you left your student ID card at one of the registration desks. Write an email to the event organizer

- Exp where and when you think you left it
- Describe the ID card
- Ask how you can receive it back

I am writing to request your help regarding my student ID. Unfortunately, I have lost my student ID during the university career fair held yesterday evening, I remember the last time I had it was at 8 p.m. near the main entrance at the registration desk. It is a white student card with a blue line. The front side contains my photo and personal information, while the back shows my year of study and department. Therefore, I would greatly appreciate it if you could check whether it has been found and let me know how I can get it back.

41 + 43) You are a student leader at your school and have been assigned to help plan your class field trip. You have found a travel agency that offers comprehensive travel packages and want to contact the travel agent, Mr. Brown, to inquire about their services. Write an email to the travel agent, Mr. Brown.

- Explain the purpose and dates of the class field trip
- Ask about the available offers for large groups.
- Request details on how they can accommodate specific travel needs and additional - - services offered.

I am writing regarding our class trip that we are planning for June 15–18. The purpose of our trip is to explore historical places in Paris and Berlin, Such as Berlin Wall and Eiffel Tower. Moreover, we are looking to expand our knowledge of the history of France and Germany through this trip. We are a group of 20 students, and I did some quick research and found that your agency offers good travel services and comprehensive travel packages. Therefore, I would like to ask about the available offers for large groups and whether there are any discounts. finally, I would greatly appreciate it if you could provide information about accommodation, dietary food options, transportation, and other services you offer.

50] A classmate, Jessica, is asking you about why you missed today's class. Write an email to Jessica. In your email, you should:

- explain why you missed the class
- ask her for notes or details about the class
- offer to help her with something in return

I hope you are doing well. Unfortunately, I could not attend the class today because I had an important appointment with the dentist at 9 a.m. I tried to reschedule it but there was no other available date. Therefore, I would like to ask you about the topics discussed in class and if you have any notes or materials I can study from. finally, I would greatly appreciate it if you could explain the important information have presented today by the professor. In return, I will gladly help you with notes and materials for any class you may miss in the future.

2) You recently joined a student organization at your university that focuses on environmental conservation. The group is planning an upcoming event to raise awareness about recycling and reducing waste. You have some ideas for activities and would like to share them with the group leader, Julia. Write an email to Julia. In your email:

- Describe your ideas for the awareness event.
- Explain why you believe these activities will be effective.
- Offer to help organize and implement the activities.

I am writing to share my ideas regarding the upcoming awareness event. Firstly, I believe that adding some interactive activities on how to recycle the waste easily and effectively, such as sorting recyclables materials into the correct bins and making useful items from old plastic bottles will be more efficient. These activities will be valuable because they help attendees practice effective recycling strategies and understand how small daily habits can reduce waste and protect the environment. Finally, it is my pleasure to participate in preparing the activities and other tasks before the event.

19) You and your friend, Jasmine, are planning to host a fundraising event for a local children's hospital. You have some ideas for activities and entertainment to include in the event, but you need Jasmine's input to finalize the plans. You also want to discuss the best time to meet and organize the details.

- Describe the ideas you have for the fundraising event.
- Explain why you think these activities will be successful.
- Suggest a time to meet and discuss the plans in more detail.

I am writing to share my ideas about our upcoming fundraising event on 25 Dec. I believe adding some interactive activities, such as, games for children, a music show, and some sports activities because they will make the event more enjoyable and attractive. As a result, it will help us raise more money and support the event. Finally, could you tell me if you have free time on Friday at 8 p.m. to meet at the Middle East cafe and discuss this plan in more details?

37) Your friend, Alex, has been feeling overwhelmed with university assignments. You have noticed that he is struggling to keep up with his workload and is not taking proper care of his health. You want to offer some helpful advice.

- Describe to Alex what you have recently noticed about him.
- Explain why it is important to maintain good health.
- Suggest some specific strategies Alex can use to manage his stress and workload.

Recently, I have noticed that you look very stressed and tired because of your university assignments. In addition, you also seem to skip meals and sleep late every night. I think taking care of your health is very important because it helps you stay focused, study better, and avoid feeling exhausted. Therefore, I suggest making a daily schedule, taking short breaks between study sessions, and getting at least seven hours of sleep. Finally, regular exercise and healthy meals can also help you manage your stress

Q31) You and your friend John are planning a trip to Europe this summer. You have been researching some destinations and have found a few interesting places that you think would be enjoyable for both of you.

- Describe the destinations you have researched.
- Explain why you think these destinations would be enjoyable.
- Ask for his opinion on the suggested itinerary and any additional ideas he has

I'm writing to share some ideas about our trip to Europe this summer. Firstly, I did some research and found that Berlin and Paris could be great destinations for us. Berlin has beautiful historical places, such as Berlin Wall, while Paris has famous attractions like the Eiffel Tower and Louvre museum. Therefore, I think these cities would be enjoyable because they offer culture, history, and fun activities. Finally, please let me know what you think about this itinerary and if you have any other ideas.

58] You recently visited a popular tourist destination called "Sunny Beach Resort." While the experience was partially enjoyable, you noticed that some aspects of the resort are environmentally harmful. You want to suggest some improvements to the resort manager, Mr. Collins.

- Describe what you enjoyed about your stay at the resort.
- Explain your concerns about the resort's environmental impact.
- Suggest some measures that could be implemented to make the resort more environmentally friendly

I am writing about my recent visit o Sunny Beach Resort. Firstly, I really enjoyed the beach views and the friendly staff, who were always welcoming and helpful. However, I noticed some environmental problems during my stay. There was too much plastic waste, such as bottles and bags near the beach. Some of this could enter the ocean, pollute the water and harm fish and other marine animals. Therefore, I think adding more recycling bins and instructions could improve the resort and protect the environment.

59] You recently visited a new art gallery in your city called Art Hven. You want to share some feedback with the gallery curator, Ms. Blake.

- Describe what you enjoyed about your visit to the gallery.
- Explain why you think more info about the artists and their work important.
- Suggest ways that visitors could connect with and learn more about the gallery's

I am writing to share my feedback about my recent visit to the Art Hven.

Firstly, I really enjoyed the art exhibitions, especially, the pictures and the modern paintings work. They were very attractive and inspiring.

However, more information about the artists is important because it helps visitors understand the meaning and background of each painting.

Therefore, I suggest creating a social media page where visitors can learn more about the artists, upcoming exhibitions, and new artworks.
