Health, Wellness, and Fitness

Part A: Physical and Mental Well-being (Source: Real 1)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your health and wellness habits. First, do you have any specific routines or practices you use to maintain your physical well-being? If so, what are they?
- Q2. Thank you. Can you describe any dietary choices or habits that you follow to stay healthy? Give details to explain your answer.
- Q3. Interesting. If you could make one significant change to your diet or exercise routine to stay healthy, what would it be? Why would you make that particular choice?
- Q4. Great. Some people believe that mental health is just as important as physical health, and should be given equal attention. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Part B: Sports and Physical Activities (Source: Real 13)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your participation in sports. First, do you currently play any sports or engage regularly in any physical activities?
- Q2. Thank you. If you were able to, what sport that you do not currently play, would you like to be really good at? Why that particular sport?
- Q3. Interesting. Tell me about an experience you had while playing a sport or engaging in a physical activity that you remember well.
- Q4. Great. Some people believe that children should not participate in contact sports like rugby or hockey because they could get hurt, while others believe that these sports teach awareness and teamwork. What do you think, and why?

Part C: Sleep and Well-being (Source: SPS 6)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. First, please think back to a recent night when you slept either unusually well or unusually poorly. What do you think caused that result, and how did it influence your energy, focus, and mood the following day?
- Q2. I see. Many people set strict bedtimes, while others go to sleep whenever they feel tired. Which approach do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people say short daytime naps improve learning and productivity, while others believe naps make it harder to sleep at night. Do you think adults should take brief naps? Why or why not? Give one or two reasons or examples.
- Q4. Good points. Many schools and workplaces are considering shifting start times later by about one hour to match natural sleep patterns. If this change happened where you live, what positive effects and negative effects might you expect? Please give one clear example of each.

Part D: Diet and Nutrition (Source: SPS 8)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To start, I'd like you to remember the last time you ate a meal that you especially enjoyed. Where were you, what did you eat, and why did you enjoy that meal so much?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer eating at restaurants because they like trying new dishes, while others feel more comfortable eating food prepared at home. Which do you usually prefer, eating out or eating at home? Please explain your preference with a reason.
- Q3. Interesting. Many people argue that a healthy diet is important for living a long and active life. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Please give one or two reasons to support your opinion.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some people believe that in the future, new technologies such as lab-grown meat and personalized nutrition will greatly change how people eat. Do you think these developments will be mostly beneficial or mostly harmful for society? Why?

Part E: Healthy Habits and Fitness Technology (Source: SPS 21)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about one habit you have that helps you stay healthy. What is it, and how does it benefit you?
- Q2. I see. Some people believe that eating habits are more important for good health, while others think regular exercise matters more. Which do you think has a greater effect, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people struggle to maintain healthy habits when they're busy or stressed. What do you think helps people stay consistent?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, technology has introduced many new ways to support healthy living, such as fitness apps and smart watches. Overall, do you think these tools are mostly helpful or mostly harmful for people's health habits? Why?

Part F: Healthy Lifestyles and Technology (Source: TGL 12)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me. I'm conducting a study about healthy lifestyles. First, what habits do you have to stay healthy, and why?
- Q2. Alright. Exercise is an important part of a healthy lifestyle. Some people prefer guided exercise programs at gyms, while others enjoy freestyle exercise at home or outdoors. Which approach do you prefer and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Next, I'd like to get your opinion. Mental health is an important part of overall well-being today. Do you think modern life has a more positive or more negative effect on mental health? Why?
- Q4. Good points. Lastly, many people now use wearable devices such as watches or rings to track their health. How do you think this practice influences people's daily health habits? Do you think it helps people live a healthier lifestyle? Why or why not?

Daily Routines and Time Management

Part A: Structuring the Day (Source: Real 9)

- Q1. Thank you for taking the time to speak with me. I'd like to ask you some questions about your daily routines. First, do you usually follow a strict daily routine? or is yours flexible?
- Q2. Understood. Now can you describe a typical day for you? What are some activities you typically do in the morning or in the afternoon?
- Q3. Gotcha! How do you manage your daily routine? Can you share an example of a time when you had to adjust your plans?
- Q4. Very good. Last question. Some people believe that having a strict daily routine helps them be more productive and organized. While others think that freedom is key to handling life's unpredictability. Which approach do you think is more effective? And why?

Part B: Routine Disruptions and AI Scheduling (Source: SPS 4)

- Q1. Thank you for joining the study. Let's start with a personal question. Can you think of a time when your regular daily routine was disrupted, maybe due to travel, illness, or a special event? What happened, and how did it go?
- Q2. I see. Some people feel more productive when they follow a strict daily schedule, while others prefer flexibility and doing things whenever they feel like it. What's your personal preference, and why do you think that approach works better for you?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people believe that having a consistent morning routine helps them feel more focused and organized throughout the day. Others say routines don't really matter as long as you get your tasks done. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?
- Q4. Good points. Lastly, some researchers believe that in the future, artificial intelligence will design personalized daily routines to help people manage their time better. Do you think this kind of technology would be mostly helpful or mostly harmful for people's lives? Why?

Part C: Time Management and Productivity (Source: SPS 14)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about a time when you had a lot to do in a short period. How did you organize your tasks, and what helped you complete them?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer to plan every part of their day, while others like to stay flexible and go with the flow. Which approach works better for you, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people struggle with procrastination—putting things off until the last minute. What strategies do you think are most effective for overcoming it?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some people say that modern technology—like smartphones and digital planners—has made time management easier. Do you think technology is mostly helpful or mostly harmful for productivity? Why?

Home Environment and Living Spaces

Part A: Home Decoration (Source: Real 16)

- Q1. Thanks for participating in this study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with home decoration. First, do you enjoy decorating your living space? or do you find it challenging? Why do you think that is?
- Q2. Interesting. Thank you. Can you describe a recent home decoration project you or someone you know worked on? And what changes were made?
- Q3. OK. What kinds of living spaces do you find inviting or comfortable? Why do you think that is?
- Q4. Some people believe that a well-decorated living space can significantly improve one's mood and productivity. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why? Or why not?

Personal Growth and Goal Setting

Part A: Goal Setting and Resilience (Source: Real 22)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with setting personal goals. First, think of a time, recent or not, when you had something you wanted to achieve. What was it?
- Q2. Gotcha! In general, how do you handle difficulties or obstacles that come up while working toward what you want to achieve?
- Q3. Understood. In your opinion, how important is goal setting for personal growth?
- Q4. Thanks. Last question. Do you think children should be taught to set personal goals from an early age, why, or why not?

Part B: Personal Goals and Achievements (Source: Real 32)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal goals and achievements. First, do you currently have any specific personal goals you are working towards? Give details to explain your answer.
- Q2. Thank you. Can you describe some steps you can take to achieve these goals, or to achieve goals in general? What are the challenges you face when taking these steps?
- Q3. Interesting, can you describe an accomplishment that holds special meaning for you? What did you achieve and why is it significant to you?
- Q4. Great, some people believe that setting and working towards individual goals is crucial for self-improvement and personal growth. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

Part C: Decision Making and Problem Solving (Source: SPS 16)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To start, I'd like you to think about an important decision you made recently. What was the decision, and what factors did you consider before making it?
- Q2. I see. Some people make decisions quickly based on intuition, while others take their time and analyze every detail. Which approach do you usually take, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Sometimes people face decisions where both options seem equally good. What strategies can help someone choose in that kind of situation?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, in today's world, people often face "decision overload," with so many options available in daily life. Do you think having many choices is mostly helpful or mostly harmful for people? Why?

Part D: Risks and Uncertainty (Source: SPS 28)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To start, I'd like you to think about a time when you took a risk—something that felt uncertain but important. What did you do, and how did it turn out?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer to take chances and try new things, while others like to stay safe and avoid uncertainty. Which approach do you usually take, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people say that being too cautious can lead to missed opportunities. Do you agree or disagree? Please explain with an example.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that in the future, technology will make life safer and reduce many everyday risks. Do you think that will be mostly positive or mostly negative for society? Why?

Part E: Stress Management and Resilience (Source: SPS 29)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To start, I'd like you to think about a recent situation that caused you stress. What happened, and how did you handle it?
- Q2. I see. Some people reduce stress through physical activity, while others prefer quiet activities such as reading or meditation. Which approach works better for you, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that a little stress can actually improve performance. Do you agree or disagree? Please explain with an example.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that in the future, technology will play a bigger role in reducing stress, for example through mental health apps or AI-guided relaxation tools. Do you think this will be mostly positive or mostly negative for people's well-being? Why?

Part F: Ambition and Future Planning (Source: TGL 8)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me. I'm conducting a study about personal goals and I'd like to ask you some questions. First, what is one goal that you hope to achieve within the next five years and why?
- Q2. I see. Some people think it is important to set very ambitious goals, while others think it is better to set smaller, more realistic goals. Which do you prefer and why?
- Q3. That is an interesting perspective. Next, I'd like to get your opinion. Some people believe that you are more motivated to achieve your goals if you tell others about them. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. Good points. Some people try to plan out the course of their entire life. What do you think are the advantages and disadvantages of planning your future in great detail? Please give one example of each.

Social Relationships and Interpersonal Connections

Part A: Friendship and Emotional Well-being (Source: Real 19)

- Q1. Thank you for signing up for the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with friendship. First do you have a large group of friends or do you prefer to have a smaller group of friends?
- Q2. Very good. Now describe a time when a friendship taught you something valuable or helped you see something from a new perspective.
- Q3. Great. Next question. In your opinion what makes a friendship last a long time?
- Q4. OK last one. Some people believe that maintaining friendships is essential for emotional well-being and life satisfaction. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint. Why? or Why not?

Part B: Social Gatherings and Networking (Source: Real 21)

- Q1. Thank you for being part of the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with social gatherings. First, do you enjoy attending large social gatherings, or do you prefer smaller, more private gatherings? Why is that?
- Q2. Thank you. Can you describe a memorable social gathering you attended recently? What made it special?
- Q3. Very good. How do you usually prepare for a social gathering? What do you focus on most?
- Q4. Some people believe that social gatherings are important opportunities for building and maintaining professional relationships. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why or why not?

Part C: Helping Others and Community Support (Source: SPS 15)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To start, I'd like you to think about a time when you helped someone—a friend, family member, or even a stranger. What did you do, and how did that experience make you feel?
- Q2. I see. Some people like helping others directly, such as volunteering, while others prefer to support causes indirectly, for example by donating money. Which way do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that helping others can also help you grow as a person. Do you agree? Please explain with one example.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some people think modern society is becoming too busy and individualistic, leaving less time for helping others. Do you think it's realistic for most people to include helping behaviors in their daily routines? Why or why not?

Part D: Dynamics of Friendship (Source: SPS 17)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To start, I'd like you to think about one of your closest friends. How did you first meet this person, and what made you become good friends?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer having a large group of friends, while others are happy with just one or two close ones. Which do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people say that friendships naturally change as people grow older. Do you agree or disagree? Please explain with one example.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, modern technology allows people to stay connected with friends anywhere in the world. Overall, do you think this has mostly strengthened or mostly weakened friendships over time? Why?

Part E: Community Service and Digital Engagement (Source: SPS 27)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To start, I'd like you to think about a time when you took part in a community activity—such as an event, project, or volunteer experience. What did you do, and what made it meaningful for you?
- Q2. I see. Some people like to get involved in community activities regularly, while others prefer to help only once in a while when they have extra time. Which approach do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that community service should be required in schools, while others think it should be a personal choice. Which do you agree with more, and why?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that in the future, more community activities will be organized online through digital platforms instead of in person. Do you think this trend will be mostly positive or mostly negative for communities? Why?

Hobbies, Leisure, and Travel

Part A: Interests and Pastimes (Source: Real 2)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about hobbies. To begin, do you have a hobby or interest that you regularly spend time doing?
- Q2. Thank you. If you were to select a new hobby, what would you choose and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Now tell me what might prevent you from starting this new pastime.
- Q4. Great. Some people believe it is better to have one interest outside of work or school that you dedicate yourself to rather than multiple smaller ones. What do you think about that and why?

Part B: Learning New Hobbies (Source: Real 14)

- Q1. Thanks for being involved in this research. I'd like to ask you some questions about learning new hobbies. First what kinds of hobbies do your friends and family have?
- Q2. Thanks for that. Now if your school or workplace organized after-work hobby clubs, which clubs do you think would interest the most people?
- Q3. Great! That's helpful. Next, do you think hobbies should mostly be relaxing? or is it better if they challenge you? Why?
- Q4. Got it. Last question. How important do you think it is for people to keep exploring new hobbies as they grow older? Why?

Part C: Travel and Tourism (Source: SPS 9)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me today. To begin, I'd like you to think back to a memorable trip you have taken—either in your own country or abroad. Where did you go, and what made that trip especially memorable for you?
- Q2. I see. Some people enjoy traveling to new places because they like adventure, while others prefer familiar destinations because they feel more relaxed and comfortable. Which do you usually prefer, exploring new places or returning to places you already know well? Why?
- Q3. Interesting. Travel can influence people in different ways. Some say that traveling helps us learn about other cultures, while others believe it mainly provides rest and entertainment. What do you think is the main benefit of traveling? Please explain with one or two reasons.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that future technologies, like virtual reality, could replace actual travel for many people. Do you think virtual experiences could ever provide the same benefits as real travel? Why or why not? Please include at least one example.

Part D: Free Time and Hobbies (Source: SPS 10)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To start, I'd like you to think about how you usually spend your free time. What activity do you enjoy most, and why does it make you feel relaxed or satisfied?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer hobbies that are active, like sports or dancing, while others enjoy quiet hobbies such as painting or knitting. Which type of hobby do you prefer, and what does it give you that the other type might not?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people believe that having a hobby can improve mental health. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Please give one or two examples to support your opinion.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts say that in the future, people will have much more free time because of automation and shorter workweeks. Do you think this change will be mostly positive or mostly negative for people's lives? Why?

Part E: Relaxation and Entertainment Choices (Source: SPS 20)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about your favorite way to relax after a busy day. What do you like to do, and why does it help you unwind?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer spending their free time alone, while others like doing activities with friends or family. Which do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Entertainment today comes in many forms—from movies and music to online games and podcasts. How do you usually choose what kind of entertainment to enjoy?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, with so many entertainment options available online, do you think this trend is mostly positive or mostly negative for people's lifestyles? Why?

Part F: Travel Experiences and Virtual Tourism (Source: SPS 23)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about a trip you've taken that left a strong impression on you. Where did you go, and what made it memorable?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer to travel to new destinations each time, while others enjoy returning to the same place again and again. Which do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people say that travel helps them learn about the world in ways that books or media cannot. Do you agree? Please explain with an example.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some people believe that virtual travel—using online tours or virtual reality—will become more common in the future. Do you think this kind of travel would be mostly beneficial or mostly harmful for people who enjoy traveling? Why?

Part G: City Living

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about a city you've visited or lived in. What stood out to you about that city, and how did it make you feel?
- Q2. I see. Some people enjoy living in large cities because of the opportunities, while others prefer smaller towns because they are quieter. Which environment do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that cities encourage creativity and innovation. Do you agree or disagree? Please explain with one or two examples.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that in the future, more people will leave crowded cities and move to smaller communities because of remote work. Do you think this trend will be mostly positive or mostly negative for cities? Why?

Part H: Vacation Preferences and Train Travel (Source: TGL 1)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me today. I'm conducting a study about people's vacation preferences. I'd like to ask you some questions. First, can you describe the last vacation you went on, including where you went and what you did?
- Q2. I see. Some people like to travel alone, while others prefer to travel with a group of friends. Would you rather travel by yourself, or would you rather travel with others? Why?
- Q3. That's interesting. Many people believe that trains are the best way to travel within a country because they are fast and efficient. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. Good points. Lastly, I would like to ask about buying souvenirs. Some people like to buy little souvenirs for all of their friends and family when they travel. Do you agree that this is a worthwhile way of spending your time and money while on vacation? Why or why not?

Arts, Entertainment, and Literature

Part A: Music Preferences (Source: Real 6)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate, I'd like to ask you some questions about your music preferences. First, how often do you listen to music? Do you listen daily, weekly or less often?
- Q2. Thank you. What genres or types of music do you usually enjoy listening to? For example, do you prefer classical, rock or jazz music? Get details to explain your answer.
- Q3. Interesting. Can you tell me about a concert or live music event you would like to attend? Why would you make that particular choice?
- Q4. Great. Some people believe that music can have a powerful effect on our emotions and moods. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Part B: Art

- Q1. Thank you for your participation. I'd like to learn about your experiences with art and creativity. Do you consider yourself to be a creative person? Why or why not?
- Q2. Great. Some people think that learning about art is just as important as learning science or math. Do you agree or disagree? Why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that engaging in creative activities can improve mental well-being. Do you agree or disagree? Why?
- Q4. Good points. One final question. Do you think future schools will teach more art or less? What factors might influence this?

Part C: Movies and Entertainment (Source: Real 25)

- Q1. Thank you for your participation today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your entertainment preferences. What kind of movies do your family or friends generally like to watch? For example, do they prefer action movies, comedies, dramas, or other types?
- Q2. I see. When you watch a movie, do you prefer to watch after work or school on weekdays, or do you like to watch during the weekends? Why?
- Q3. Interesting. Next, I'd like to get your opinion. In the past, people mostly watched movies in theaters. Today many people watch movies at home. Do you think that movie theaters will continue to exist in the future? Why or why not?
- Q4. Good points. I just have one more question. Some people believe that movies can be a powerful tool for educating people and raising awareness about important issues. Do you agree with this idea or do you think there are other more effective ways to educate people? Explain why you think so.

Part D: Music Experiences and Education (Source: Real 27)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to take part in the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with music. First, how important is music in your life? Why?
- Q2. Great. That's interesting. Now, if you had to choose, would you rather create music yourself or listen to music created by others? Why?
- Q3. Okay. Noted. Do you think music should be a required part of children's education? Why or why not?
- Q4. Fair enough. Final question. Some people believe that live music has a stronger impact than recorded music. Do you agree or disagree with that? Why or why not?

Part E: Books

- Q1. Thank you for your participation. I'd like to learn about your experiences with books and reading. Was there a time in your life when you read more or less than you do now? What changed?
- Q2. Great. In your opinion, is reading for pleasure a popular way people spend their free time where you live. Why do you think that is?
- Q3. Interesting. Do you think reading different types of books helps people understand each other and get along better? Why or why not?
- Q4. Good points. I just have one more question. Looking ahead, some people believe that future generations will read less than today's generation. Do you agree or disagree? Why?

Part F: Television Viewing and Streaming (Source: TGL 4)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me today. I'm conducting a study about people's television viewing habits. I'd like to ask you some questions. First, can you tell me what kinds of television programs you typically watch and why?
- Q2. I see. Some people think that television programs aimed at children should be educational, while others think that they should just be entertaining. Which opinion do you agree with and why?
- Q3. That's interesting. Many people believe that TV commercials don't influence what people actually buy. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. Good points. Lastly, I would like to ask you about streaming services. Many people now watch only streaming content on their televisions instead of traditional TV channels. Do you agree that this is a better way to watch programs, or do you think traditional TV channels are still important? Explain your answer.

Part G: Music Preferences and Practices (Source: TGL 10)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me. I'm conducting a study about music preferences and I'd like to ask you some questions. First, can you tell me what kinds of music you usually listen to and why?
- Q2. Alright. Some people think listening to music while studying or working improves concentration, while others think it reduces productivity. What are your thoughts on this and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Next, I'd like to get your opinion. Some people believe that music is a universal language that everyone can understand. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. Good points. I just have one more question. Background music is often played in restaurants, stores, and other public spaces. What is your opinion of this practice? Do you think it's enjoyable or annoying? Explain why you think so.

Culture, Festivals, and Traditions

Part A: Cultural Festivals and Traditions (Source: Real 8)

- Q1. I'd like to ask you some questions about cultural festivals. First, cultural festivals are events that celebrate traditions like food, music, art, or clothing from a certain culture. Have you ever been to one, or would you like to go to one? Why?
- Q2. Thank you. If you were to go to a cultural festival, what would you like to see or do there?
- Q3. Interesting, if you were to participate in a cultural festival for your own culture, what would you want to share with other people, and why?
- Q4. Great. Some people think cultural festivals are mainly just for fun, while others think that they serve an important purpose, like helping to keep traditions alive. What do you think?

Part B: Holiday Celebrations (Source: Real 31)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about holiday celebrations. First, do you celebrate holidays with your family, friends, or both? How often do you participate with them?
- Q2. Thank you. Can describe one of your favorite holiday celebrations or festivals? What do you do to mark the occasion?
- Q3. Interesting. Tell me about a special event that was particularly memorable for you. What made it meaningful?
- Q4. Great. Some people believe that traditional cultural observances are becoming less important in modern society. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Part C: Family Traditions and Technology (Source: SPS 22)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To start, I'd like you to think about a tradition your family follows. What is the tradition, and why is it meaningful to you?
- Q2. I see. Some families keep long-standing traditions, while others prefer to create new ones that fit their current lifestyle. Which do you think is more important, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people say that family traditions help younger generations understand their background and values. Do you agree? Please explain with an example.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some people believe that technology makes it easier for families to continue their traditions, while others think it cannot replace face-to-face contact. Which view do you agree with more, and why?

Education and Learning

Part A: Online vs. In-Person Learning (Source: Real 11)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your online learning experiences. First, have you or someone you know ever taken an online course? If so, what was the subject?
- Q2. Thank you. Can you describe what you think are some of the advantages or disadvantages of an online course over an in-person course?
- Q3. Interesting. Online courses often let students work at their own pace. How do you feel about learning when there is no set class time?
- Q4. Great. One of the concerns with online learning is online assessment, with some people believe that you cannot trust the results of an online test. What do you think about that issue?

Part B: Education Experiences (Source: Real 15)

- Q1. Thank you for joining the study. Today, I'd like to ask you some questions about your education experiences. First, which do you think is more important for a college? Offering a wide variety of courses or having small class sizes? Why?
- Q2. I see. Imagine that you are preparing for a test, would you prefer to study by yourself or group? What would make you choose one over the other?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that online courses offer more flexibility and accessibility compared to those offered in usual classroom settings, and are therefore superior. What are your thoughts on this? Do you agree or disagree? Why?
- Q4. Good points. Online courses are becoming increasingly popular and there are now full degree programs offered by universities where every class is available online only. Do you think online learning will someday completely replace in-person learning? Explain your thoughts.

Part C: Childhood Education and System Reform (Source: Real 24)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your thoughts on childhood education. First, did you enjoy your school experience as a child?
- Q2. Thank you. Tell me about a school project or activity you participated in. What made that project or activity special?
- Q3. Interesting. Tell me a little about the technology you used during your childhood education. Do you feel like that technology prepared you for life after school? Why or why not?
- Q4. Great. Some people believe that the current education system needs significant changes to better prepare children for the future, focusing more on skills like problem solving and teamwork instead of mainly teaching facts. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why?

Part D: Learning Experiences and Technology (Source: SPS 2)

- Q1. Thank you for joining today. Tell me about your most memorable learning experience and why it was important to you.
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer to study alone, while others prefer group study. Which do you prefer and why?
- Q3. Good points. Many educators believe that technology is changing how students learn. Do you think technology makes learning more effective or creates distractions? Please explain your reasoning.
- Q4. Interesting perspective. Finally, many experts predict that artificial intelligence will become more common in education. Do you think this will be mostly helpful or mostly challenging for students? Why?

Part E: Lifelong Learning and Skill Development (Source: SPS 13)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about a skill you've learned recently—something new you didn't know how to do before. What was the skill, and what made you decide to learn it?
- Q2. I see. Some people enjoy learning new skills on their own, while others prefer to take a class or learn from a teacher. Which do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe learning a new skill helps them in other areas of life, not just in that skill itself. Do you agree? Please explain with an example.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that in the future, people will need to keep learning new skills throughout their lives to adapt to change. Do you think this trend will be mostly positive or mostly negative for people's careers? Why?

Part F: Language Learning and Technology (Source: SPS 24)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me today. I'm conducting a study about people's experiences with learning languages. To start, when did you first begin studying another language, and what motivated you to learn it?
- Q2. I see. Some people find learning a new language enjoyable, while others think it's stressful or frustrating. Which best describes your experience, and why?
- Q3. OK. Some people believe that practicing with native speakers is the most effective way to learn a language. Others think self-study is just as useful. Which do you think helps more, and why?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that in the future, artificial intelligence will play a bigger role in language learning—for example, through personalized AI tutors. Do you think this change would be mostly helpful or mostly harmful for learners? Why?

Part G: Course Modalities and Personalized Learning (Source: SPS 26)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To start, I'd like you to think back to a course or subject you really enjoyed studying. What was it, and what made it interesting or meaningful for you?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer learning in traditional classrooms with teachers and classmates, while others prefer online courses because of flexibility. Which learning environment do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that the main purpose of education is to prepare people for work, while others think it should help people grow as individuals. Which do you agree with more, and why?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that artificial intelligence will soon personalize education by designing lessons for each student's strengths and weaknesses. Do you think this change will be mostly helpful or mostly harmful for learning? Why?

Part H: Education and Class Dynamics (Source: TGL 7)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me. I'm conducting a study about education and I'd like to ask you some questions. First, can you tell me who your favorite teacher was and why you liked them?
- Q2. Great. Some people think that students should do homework every day, while others think that homework is a waste of time. Which opinion do you agree with and why?
- Q3. That is an interesting perspective. Many people believe that everyone should earn a university degree. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. Interesting. Lastly, I would like to ask you about class sizes. Some schools have very large classes with many students. What are the advantages and disadvantages of large classes? Please give one example of each.

Part I: Foreign Language Education (Source: TGL 11)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me. I'm conducting a study about foreign languages and I'd like to ask you some questions. First, did you study a second language as a child? Why or why not?
- Q2. Alright. Some people prefer to study languages by themselves, while others would rather study in a class. Which method do you prefer and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people believe that everyone should learn a foreign language. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. Good points. I just have one more question. Many people believe that translation apps will make learning foreign languages unnecessary. Do you agree or disagree? Explain why you think so.

Careers and the Workplace

Part A: Job Satisfaction and Work Environment (Source: Real 12)

- Q1. Thank you for helping with our study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your job satisfaction. First, what do you think are the most important things to consider when looking for a job?
- Q2. Got it. That's helpful. Now, can you describe a job that either you or one of your friends has had? What kind of work was involved?
- Q3. Noted. Moving on, what kinds of things do you think can lead people to feel unhappy in their work? Can you tell me about one or two of them?
- Q4. Great. And finally, some people believe that working for a large company offers more advantages than working for a small company, while others prefer the opposite. What do you think? And why?

Part B: Teamwork and Collaboration (Source: SPS 18)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about a time when you worked with other people to complete a task or project. What was the goal, and what role did you play in the group?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer working in teams, while others like completing tasks on their own. Which do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Sometimes people in a team disagree about how to do things. What's the best way to handle a disagreement within a group?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, many workplaces today have international teams with people from different cultures and backgrounds. Overall, do you think this kind of diversity is mostly helpful or mostly challenging for teamwork? Why?

Part C: Career Choices and Future Trends (Source: SPS 19)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about a job or career you're interested in. What attracts you to that career, and how did you first become interested in it?
- Q2. I see. Some people choose careers mainly for financial security, while others focus on personal satisfaction. Which factor is more important to you, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Career plans often change over time. Why do you think people sometimes switch careers, and what can help them make that transition successfully?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, with technology and automation changing many industries, do you think this trend will have mostly positive or mostly negative effects on people's future careers? Why?

Part D: Group Projects and Remote Collaboration (Source: SPS 25)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To start, I'd like you to think about a time when you worked with another person or a group on a project. What was the situation, and what made the teamwork successful or challenging?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer working in teams because they can share ideas, while others prefer working alone because they can focus better. Which do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people believe that teamwork teaches useful skills such as communication and problem-solving. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Please explain with one or two examples.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that in the future, more people will work remotely with international teams online. Do you think this change will be mostly positive or mostly negative for collaboration? Why?

Part E: Dream Jobs and Career Perks (Source: TGL 6)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me. I'm conducting a study about working and I'd like to ask you some questions. First, can you tell me what your dream job is and what kind of tasks that role involves?
- Q2. Great. Some people think that working for one company for many years is best, while others think people should change jobs every few years. Which opinion do you agree with and why?
- Q3. Very good points. Many people believe that the most important thing about your work is to enjoy what you do. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. That's an interesting perspective. Lastly, I'd like to ask about salaries and extra job perks. Some people say that things like flexible work hours, remote work options, and transportation allowances are so important that they are willing to accept lower pay if those perks are good. Do you agree that these kinds of perks are more important than having a high salary? Why or why not? Explain your answer.

Transportation and Commuting

Part A: Personal Commuting Experiences (Source: Real 3)

- Q1. Thank you for your willingness to participate today. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with commuting. First, what kinds of places do you usually go to during the week? And how do you get there?
- Q2. Got it. Can you describe how someone in your family or a friend, usually travels to work or school? how much time does it take? And what transportation does the person use?
- Q3. Ok thanks. Next question. Some people believe that living close to work or school improves quality of life, while others think location doesn't matter much. What do you think? and why?
- Q4. Great. final question. Some people believe that employers should reimburse employees for their commuting costs, while others think that employees should pay for their own travel to work. Which do you agree with? and why?

Part B: Public Transportation Infrastructure (Source: Real 5)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about public transportation. First, how often do you use public transportation?
- Q2. Thank you. Can you describe any benefits or disadvantages you might experience from using public transportation?
- Q3. Interesting. Would you consider moving in order to have better access to public transportation? Why? or Why not?
- Q4. Great. Some people believe that cities should invest more in public transportation to reduce traffic congestion and reduce commuting time and pollution. do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?

Part C: Commuting Preferences and Future Trends (Source: SPS 1)

- Q1. Thank you for joining the study. Today, I'd like to ask you some questions about your commuting habits. First, is it important to live close to your school or work? Why?
- Q2. Imagine that you could choose to commute by car, which is faster but more expensive, or by public transportation, which is slower but less expensive. Which would you choose, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that commuting can be stressful and tiring. What do you think are one or two different ways to make commuting more enjoyable? Give reasons for your answer.
- Q4. Good points. Lastly, considering advances in technology, some people believe that commuting might disappear entirely. How do you think a severe decline in commuting might affect businesses in positive ways and negative ways? Please give one example of each.

Part D: Public Transportation and Automation (Source: TGL 3)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me today. I'm conducting a study about public transportation. I'd like to ask you some questions. First, how often do you use public transportation and why?
- Q2. I see. Imagine that you could go to a location by subway, which is faster but doesn't get you as close to your destination, or by bus, which is slower but gets you closer to your destination. Which would you choose and why?
- Q3. That makes sense. Some people believe that using public transportation can be stressful and tiring. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. Good points. Let me ask you one final question. For many years, cities have been trying to automate their public transportation systems so they don't need to use human drivers for buses or trains. Do you agree that automation will make public transportation safer and more reliable? Why or why not?

Shopping and Consumer Habits

Part A: General Shopping and Consumerism (Source: Real 26)

- Q1. Thank you for taking the time to speak with me. I'd like to ask you some questions about your shopping habits. When was your last shopping trip? And what did you buy? Did you have a good shopping experience?
- Q2. I see. When you shop, which do you like better shopping for yourself or shopping for others? Why?
- Q3. Interesting. Next, I'd like to get your opinion. In recent years, people's shopping preferences have shifted in various ways. Do you think that in the future, people will continue to change how and where they shop? Why? Or why not?
- Q4. Good points. I just have one more question. Some people believe that buying too many products you do not need harms the environment. Do you agree with this idea? Why or why not?

Part B: Grocery Shopping and Local Markets (Source: Real 28)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in our study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your grocery shopping habits. First, how often do you go grocery shopping each week? Why that often?
- Q2. Great, thank you. Can you tell me what types of items you usually buy when you go grocery shopping? For example, do you buy fresh produce, dairy products or packaged foods?
- Q3. Got it. When you are grocery shopping, how often do you impulse buy? In other words, buy things you did not plan on buying. What types of items do you or might you impulse buy?
- Q4. Great, that's helpful. Last question, some people believe that shopping at local farmers markets is better than shopping at large grocery stores. Do you agree or disagree with this opinion? Why?

Part C: E-commerce and Online Shopping (Source: Real 30)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your online shopping habits. First, how often do you shop online? Do you do it weekly, monthly or less often?
- Q2. Thank you. If you were to shop online, what types of products would you be most likely to buy? For example, would you buy clothing, electronics, or groceries?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that online shopping is more convenient than shopping in physical stores, while others think it's a worse experience because it lacks the human interaction of in-person shopping. What is your opinion on this?
- Q4. Some people believe physical stores might one day disappear because of online shopping. What is your opinion on this? Why?

Part D: Food Shopping and Consumer Choices (Source: SPS 5)

- Q1. Thank you for joining the study. Think back to the last time you shopped for food, whether in a market, supermarket, or online. Why did you choose that place, and what, if anything, made the experience convenient or inconvenient?
- Q2. I see. If you had to choose between shopping in person, where you can see and select items yourself, and ordering online, which saves time but may have substitutions, which would you prefer? Why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people plan meals in advance and keep a list to control spending. Others shop more spontaneously. Which approach do you think leads to healthier and more economical choices? Explain with one or two reasons or examples.
- Q4. Good points. Many places are encouraging reusable bags and reducing packaging waste. If stricter rules limited plastic bags and single-use packaging in food stores, do you think this change would be mostly beneficial or mostly harmful for shoppers and businesses? Why?

Part E: Dining Habits and Food Delivery (Source: TGL 2)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me today. I'm conducting a study about people's restaurant dining habits. I'd like to ask you some questions. Now, how often do you usually eat at restaurants?
- Q2. Great. People are often very selective about their dining environment. Some people find small restaurants with semi-private seating the most comfortable. Others enjoy eating at large, brightly lit restaurants with lots of people. Which style of restaurant do you prefer? Why do you think you feel that way?
- Q3. That's interesting. Some people believe that eating at restaurants is not worth the high cost. Do you agree or disagree? Why?
- Q4. Good points. Lastly, considering advances in technology, food delivery has become extremely common. What are some advantages and disadvantages of this increase in food delivery? Please give one example of each.

Part F: Retail Experiences and Payment Methods (Source: TGL 9)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me. I'm conducting a study about shopping habits and I'd like to ask you some questions. First, when you go shopping, do you prefer to shop alone or do you like to shop with friends or family? Why?
- Q2. Thank you, and where do you generally do your shopping? For example, do you usually go to department stores, specialty shops, secondhand stores, or other types of stores? Why do you choose to go there?
- Q3. Interesting. Next, I'd like to get your opinion. Many people believe that Internet retail will lead to the disappearance of physical stores. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. Good points. I just have one more question. Many people think that increasing use of credit cards and mobile payments will eventually replace cash entirely. Others believe that cash will always play a role in daily life. Which opinion do you agree with, and why?

Personal Finance and Money Management

Part A: Budgeting and Fiscal Responsibility (Source: Real 4)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your personal finance habits. First, how often do you review your money management, for example tracking your expenses? or budgeting? Do you do this weekly, monthly, or less often?
- Q2. Thank you. Can you describe one or two methods you or someone you know uses to manage their finances? for example do you use budgeting apps or keep a written record?
- Q3. Interesting. Can you tell me about a financial goal you achieved recently? What motivated you to achieve this goal?
- Q4. Great. Some people believe that fiscal responsibility education should be mandatory in schools and it helps students to function effectively as adults. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? why?

Part B: Spending Habits and Financial Tools (Source: Real 10)

- Q1. Thank you for participating in this study. Today, I'd like to ask you some questions about your spending habits. First, can you tell me about a recent purchase you or someone in your family made, and why you decided to buy it?
- Q2. I see. When you make a purchase, do you usually plan ahead or do you buy things spontaneously? Why?
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that creating a monthly or weekly budget is essential for managing finances effectively. When budgeting your time or money for your next purchase, which is more important, quality for the money or spending less overall, why?
- Q4. Good points. For my final question, I'd like to ask about using apps or online tools for managing spending habits. Do you think people will increasingly rely on financial apps and tools to manage their money, or will people prefer to hire personal financial managers? Explain your thoughts.

Part C: Financial Planning (Source: Real 18)

- Q1. Thank you for joining us today to help with the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with financial planning. First, do you currently have a financial plan or budget that you follow?
- Q2. Thank you. If you could design the ideal way of managing your money, what would it look like?
- Q3. I see. In your opinion, what are the most common obstacles people run into with financial planning?
- Q4. People believe that detailed financial planning is crucial for achieving long-term financial stability and goals. Do you agree or disagree with this belief? Why or why not?

Technology and Modern Life

Part A: Impact of Technology (Source: Real 7)

- Q1. Thank you for signing up for the study. I'd like to ask you some questions about your experiences with technology and daily life. First, how important is technology in your day-to-day activities?
- Q2. Noted. Thank you. Have you ever felt frustrated while using technology? What happened?
- Q3. Fair enough. Next question. Some people believe technology will replace many jobs, while others think it will create more opportunities. What is your opinion and why?
- Q4. Okay, last question. Some people believe that reliance on technology is reducing our ability to think independently and solve problems. Do you agree or disagree with this belief? Why or why not?

Part B: Social Media (Source: Real 17)

- Q1. Thanks so much for joining us today. I'd like to ask you a few questions about social media. To start, how often do you use social media platforms? and for what purposes? Or if you don't use them, why not?
- Q2. Great. Next question. In your opinion, what makes social media either enjoyable or difficult to deal with?
- Q3. Ok now what kinds of things do you think are appropriate to share on social media? And why
- Q4. Understood. And finally some people believe that social media has more negative effects than positive ones on society in general. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Explain why?

Part C: Smartphones and App Design (Source: SPS 3)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To start, think about a recent time when your smartphone made your day easier or solved a problem. What happened, and why was the phone helpful in that situation?
- Q2. I see. Some people keep notifications on all the time to stay connected, while others silence most alerts to focus. Which approach do you prefer for your daily life, and why? Please mention one benefit and one drawback you consider.
- Q3. Interesting. Many people suggest setting aside at least one phone-free hour each day. Do you think this practice meaningfully improves well-being or productivity for most people? Why or why not? Support your answer with one or two reasons or examples.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, many people think app designers should make smartphones less addictive - for example, by limiting endless scrolling or autoplay. Do you think these design changes would be mostly helpful or mostly harmful for users? Why?

Part D: Technology in Daily Life (Source: SPS 7)

- Q1. Thank you for joining the study. To start, think back to a recent day when you used technology that played an important role in your daily routine. What did you use, and how did it influence your day?
- Q2. I see. Some people rely heavily on technology for daily tasks, while others try to limit their use. Which approach do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people say technology saves time, but others argue it creates new distractions. Do you think modern technology overall makes people more efficient or less focused? Why?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, with advances such as artificial intelligence and automation, do you think technology will be mostly beneficial or mostly harmful for people's lives in the future? Why?

Part E: Social Media Communication and AI (Source: SPS 11)

- Q1. Thank you for taking part in this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about the last time you used social media to communicate with someone. Who did you contact, what platform did you use, and why did you choose that way to communicate?
- Q2. I see. Some people prefer communicating online because it's fast and convenient, while others believe face-to-face conversations are more meaningful. Which do you prefer, and why?
- Q3. Interesting. Many people believe that social media has changed how people express themselves. Do you think these changes are mostly positive or negative? Please explain your reasoning with one or two examples.
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some experts predict that artificial intelligence will make social media feeds even more personalized in the future. Do you think this will be mostly helpful or mostly harmful for the way people communicate? Why?

Part F: Smartphone Usage and Communication (Source: TGL 5)

- Q1. Thank you for speaking with me today. I'm conducting a study about people's smartphone usage. I'd like to ask you some questions. First, can you tell me what kinds of smartphone applications you typically use and why?
- Q2. That's interesting. Some people think that talking on the telephone is the best way to communicate, while others think the same way about texting. Which opinion do you agree with and why?
- Q3. Very informative. Many people believe that using smartphones is dangerous because people may rely on them too much. Do you agree or disagree and why?
- Q4. That's an interesting perspective. Lastly, I would like to ask you about children and smartphones. Some parents think that children should not have their own smartphones until they are in middle school. Do you agree that children below a certain age should not have access to smartphones? Why or why not? Explain your answer.

Environmental Awareness and Sustainability

Part A: Environmental Practices and Policies (Source: Real 20)

- Q1. Thank you for agreeing to participate. I'd like to ask you some questions about your environmental practices. First, do you take any specific actions to reduce your environmental impact, such as recycling or conserving energy? Give details in your answer.
- Q2. Thank you. Can you describe one or two steps your community or neighborhood takes to be environmentally friendly? For example, are there solar panels on buildings or rainwater barrels available where you live?
- Q3. Interesting. If you had the chance to participate in an ecological or nature-based activity, such as a community cleanup effort or tree planting event, what would you do and why?
- Q4. Great! Some people believe that individual actions are not enough to address conservation issues, and that significant changes must come from government policies. Do you agree or disagree with this viewpoint? Why or why not?

Part B: Personal and Community Action (Source: SPS 12)

- Q1. Thank you for joining this study. To begin, I'd like you to think about a time when you did something environmentally friendly. What did you do, and what motivated you to make that choice?
- Q2. I see. Some people think it's difficult to live in an environmentally responsible way, while others believe it's mostly a matter of habit. What do you think? Please explain with one example.
- Q3. Interesting. Some people believe that protecting the environment depends mainly on personal habits, while others think progress happens when communities work together. Which approach do you think is more effective, and why?
- Q4. Good points. Finally, some scientists predict that climate change will strongly influence where people can live in the future. Do you think its effects on societies will be mostly positive or mostly negative? Why?
