

این فایل برین استورم سوالهای اسپیکینگ فایل آبی استاد اعلایی هست (Topic-Based) تلاش شده نحوه استفاده تمامی کالوکیشن های موجود و لغات قبل از نوشته شدن حتما صحتش تو اینترنت چک بشه اما قطعاً بدون خطا و اشتباه نخواهد بود.

ازونجایی که من این فایل رو به مرور زمان برین استورم کردم کامل از سطح نوشتار و لغات و کالوکیشن های استفاده شده قابل تشخیص هست که هرچه بیشتر پیش برید دایره لغات و دلایل قویتر و بهتر میشن.

دو بخش پایانی نزدیک به امتحانم برین استورم شد (Preference and Miscellaneous) و به همین دلیل فرصت نکردم یادداشت کنم و به نوشتار دربیارم دلایل رو.

و توصیه میکنم برای مصمم شدن و نتیجه گیری خوب حتماً یک پارتنر انتخاب کنید و من هم شدیداً ممنونم از نگین عزیز، پارتنر اسپیکینگ و رایتینگم، که اگه استمرار و انرژی اون نبود تو چند ماه اخیر این فایل درست نمیشد و امیدوارم این فایل برای همه مفید باشه.

نکته پایانی اینکه زمانهای زیادی پیش میاد دلسرد، ناامید و خسته میشین اما باور داشته باشین که واقعا نتیجه تلاش و زحمتتون رو دیر یا زود میبینن و فقط ادامه بدید و تسلیم نشین حتی شده در حد روزی یک دونه برین استورم یا تمرین هم کافیه اما سعی کنین هرروز انجام بدین!

GOOD LUCK AND DO NOT FORGET THAT:

New TOPIC s
1	Some university classes only meet one day a week for a long period of time. Other university classes meet several days a week for shorter periods of time. Which do you think is better? Explain why. • I personally prefer classes that meet several days a week for shorter periods of time. First because, by having classes several days a week I can make sure that I am keeping up with the class and following the materials and absorbing the information more effectively. Therefore, will directly lead to higher performance. • Moreover, as these classes will last for a shorter time, I would not get bored and tired of the topic and class while classes that last too long will reduce my incentive to follow and study which lead to poor performance in the assignments and exams. Constant access to the professors receives feedbacks which will reinforce the process of learning.
2	Some people feel an emotional attachment to old items from the past, such as childhood toys and school projects, and prefer to keep them as long as possible. Others don't feel such an attachment and so don't keep them. Which do you prefer? Explain why? I personally feel an emotional attachment to old items, first because I think they are very valuable and can evoke lots of happy moments from the past and even boost our mood. For instance, as an adult whenever I am in a bad mood or struggling with real-life issues. I go to the special box of my childhood toys and clean them and a little talk and play with them like old times. And this reminds me I am still a kid from inside can be a great separation from the hustle and bustle of the adulthood life. And this will drastically enhance my mood so I can back to the reality and tackle my problems stronger.

3	Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? Playing sports as children encourage people to become overly aggressive later in life. I strongly disagree with the statement, in contrast, I think playing sports will develop some essential skills such as communicational skills, team work skills and also will cultivate a sense of patience and tolerance toward undesirable results and help them to cope with defeat and value the success. For instance, as child I was engaged in lots of team sports and there, I learned how to make connections with other people and be more patient when we lost the game and control my temper. As a result, as an adult I'm less aggressive when I face with undesirable and unexpected results.
4	Some people prefer to travel when they have time off from school or work. Others prefer to spend their time off at home. Which do you prefer? I personally prefer to travel when I have time off from school or works. First, it not only helps me to unwind and relaxed but also gives me the opportunity to experience new things and improve my communicational skills and get familiar with different people with different points of view and broaden my perspective. And also, it can give me an incentive to learn a new language which can enrich my resume as well. In contrast, spending time off at home is neither engaging nor relaxing as there is nothing interesting to do. For instance, whenever I spend my time off at home, I still feel tired and exhausted and find it hard to go back to work.
5	Imagine that you have applied for a job. The company has invited you to come to their office for an interview. However, the office is located a couple of hours away in another town. Because of the distance, the company has also offered to interview you by phone instead. Which would you choose and why? I prefer a phone interview first because in this case I can save time and spend that to become more prepared for the interview and demonstrate a higher performance. While a face-to-face interview puts too much stress and pressure on me so I would not be able to display my full potential. Also commuting for a long time will make me bored and exhausted so I cannot focus properly during the interview and adversely affect my performance. Moreover, based on previous experiences I always demonstrate higher performance during phone interviews in comparison to face-to-face so I would definitely go with the latter.
6	Do you agree or disagree with the following statement? All children should be required to attend school until age 16. I personally agree and think students should be required to attend school until age 16. First, because until that age they have been provided with needed and essential skills and knowledge to enter the real world. And it is time to experience other aspects of world and not just studying so to gain deeper insight about their talents and tendencies and choose their path in life more wisely. For instance, many students by entering in job market and gaining practical skills find their desires in these fields while many find their interest in continuing their education and try to attend university to pursue their academic life.

7	Some elementary schools are establishing policies that prohibit teachers from giving homework to children, so all assignments are completed during the school day rather than at home after school. Do you agree with such policies? Explain why or why not. I agree first because in this case students have more free time to spend when they get home and use that time to spend on other important things like spending time with family members or playing or even following their hobbies or learn new skills or playing a new music instrument which can be beneficial not only for the personal life but also for their professional life. Moreover, homework will put too much stress and pressure on students and adversely affect their mental health and their productivity. Moreover, doing homework after school will promote the sedentary life-style which can adversely affect their physical health as well.
8	Your professor has offered you the opportunity to help him with some important research this weekend. However, you have made plans to travel to your hometown this weekend to attend your sister's birthday party. What will you do? Explain the reasons for your choice. I personally prefer to accept my professor's offer, first of all because this opportunity can enrich my resume which can be beneficial not only for my academic life, but also for my professional life. Moreover, traveling to my hometown will cost me lots of money and as a student I have a limited budget and this will put a huge financial strain on me. Moreover, I can celebrate my sister's birthday through internet by video call which eliminate the need to travel.
9	Some people prefer to watch entertainment programs on television, while others prefer to watch educational programs. Which do you prefer and why? I personally prefer to watch entertainment programs on television first it is a great way to unwind and relaxed after a heavy work-load of assignments and exams. While educational programs are boring and not engaging and I already have studied a lot and educational programs cannot be a good idea to spend during my spare time. Moreover, there are more people who are interested in entertainment programs so we can hang out together and watch the program together and socialize which can enhance my communicational skill while no one is interested in educational programs so watch together.

EDUCATION

1	• Agree • Hinder the process of learning and they eventually will lose some essential skills such as basic math. • It is an essential part of brain development and it will sharpen the mind and memory so without that the brain would become blunt and it may cause numerous diseases such as amnesia, dementia at older ages. • The stronger the brain is, the healthier it is.
2	• Agree • They have more free time when got home and can use that time to do other important things like learning a new skill which can be beneficial for their personal and professional life in the future Or learn how to play a new musical instrument which can be effective for their brain development • Also they can socialize with their family members and strengthen their bonds • Or play with their peers which help them to enhance their communicational skills and team work abilities
3	• Give you a better and more real perspective about the field, you will gain knowledge about the work environment and the job's workload and job's description and recognize if in real experience you are still interested in that field or not. • Exp. I wanted to pursue my career in advertising field but when I took a summer job in a marketing company, I did not see myself fit to that job so I changed my mind.
4	• Writing on laptop and electronic devices gives more options for instance I can edit and highlight the information without being worried about the original version since I can make an intact copy of that • Moreover, writing on laptop is more durable while notes on paper can be easily damaged if I spill water/coffee on it. • It is easier to share the information and notes through electronic devices.

5	• I prefer to read the books I choose by myself, first because it is more engaging as schools' books are not aligned with my interest and make me bored so I will read them just out of responsibility therefore, they cannot enhance my knowledge. • Moreover, books that I choose can be a good separation from school assignments and exams and is a great way for me to unwind and relax and become fresh which leads to higher productivity.
6	• Informal • They will create a more friendly environment; therefore, students are able to open up to them about their personal problems and receive advice to better solve their issues. • Moreover, when a teacher is informal and act as a friend students respect and love her or him more and they are more likely to put all their heart and effort in studying and consequently will demonstrate higher performance during their course.
7	• By giving feedback, professors will gain better understanding about their teaching style and gain insight into their weak points and try to improve their knowledge and change the weak points to strength to enhance the quality of education and achieve students' satisfaction. • Moreover, it is a great source of information for future students to get insight about professors and come up with wiser choices about their future courses with knowledgeable professors.
8	• Decoration can create a positive environment which can give me good vibe and enhance my productivity as I feel more energetic while enjoying different decoration and coloring around me. • Moreover, through decoration I can better express my artistic desires which helps me to be more creative and by involving in designing my surrounding I can gain an inner piece which is a great way to unwind and relax from the hectic life of this modern world.
9	• Disagree • Frist, because it is true that cheating bad but it is not that much bad and this punishment does not fit the crime! • Moreover, by expelling them, we are taking away their absolute right of education and they will miss the opportunity to study and create a bright future. And this might adversely affect their life, since they might stop studying and become a criminal which in the long run will create an unsafe environment for all the people in the society.
10	• Primary school is easier since they are more flexible and their minds are fresh therefore, they will better absorb the information; • Moreover, the materials and courses are simple which do not demand a great deal of effort to teach them. While university courses are complex and demands to be an expert in that field to teach students. • Moreover, primary school students are less distracted in comparison to students in university that are obsessed with their electronic devices during class times therefore as teacher it will easier to manage the class and grab students' attention to the course.

11	• By doing volunteer work or community service they will cultivate a sense of empathy and sympathy toward others and in this case they will become a better and more effective member of the society. • Moreover, working in these organizations will enrich their resume and increase their chance of employment. • Moreover, community services are a great place to meet lots of people with different walks of life which will enhance one's communication skills and team-work abilities which are all among the most sought-after skills every employer is looking for. •
12	• I prefer to pick up garbage and recyclable materials • It's a more effective way to help and conserve our environment and better environment Is contributed to the well-being of all students. • Moreover, a cleaner environment provides more positive vibes to students so, their mental health will increase and they will have better mood which directly leads to high performance and better productivity. • And furthermore, through this activity I can better fulfil the social responsibility toward our environment
13	• Disagree/ the long summer vacation is a great opportunity and good separation from school environment to unwind all the stresses and pressures from the heavy workload of assignments and deadlines and school demands. They can go on a long vacation which won't be able on short breaks. • They also can learn practical skills and gain hands-on experiences by taking a part-time job by which they will also enrich their resume ---enhance the chance of employment • It well equips students with practical and concrete knowledge so they will be furnished/nourished with hands-on experiences • They have more employable skills which will increase their chance for employment after grads. • Can travel and rest and unwind all the pressures from heavy workloads of assignments and homework • Gain more life experience • Get work experience and make money and enrich their resume • Find oneself and find direction and interest in life
14	• Skiing club- less people are interested in skiing and it is just for a seasonal activity and does not play a key role in student's life. • Academic and sports club are more important and the subsidies allocated to these clubs will ease student's life and help them with their performance. • They already have sports club subsidies so a subsidy for a specific sport is not necessary.
15	• It is not reliable • First, does not include all the opportunities that a formal school provides. Working in groups with their peers/ engaging in discussions and they will miss a big part of their social development which is one of the ultimate aims of education • Homeschooling students are not taught by trained and experienced people so they might lack proper and in-depth knowledge. • Hinder rather than help progress as students do not experience some essential skills for social- personal development such as playing with their peers. ...

	• Parents are not qualified enough. Not trained and knowledgeable / there are biased / emotional attachment- emotionally attached / prevent them from being impartial • More or less strict
16	• Disagree / it will help to reinforce the process of learning as students are able to re play review the records and eliminate the misunderstandings. Distract them from the course by note taking • Sometimes are not able to attend the class or sometime may lose their attention but they still have the lectures and that does not adversely affect their learning process and performance.
17	• Stop at different points • Teachers will make sure that all the students keep up and are following the materials and are on the same page. • by answering them at different points will eliminate misunderstanding and correct them and clear the vague parts of the subjects. --- better grasp the information • this Q and A atmosphere and discussions make the class more engaging and students are more attentive and eager to follow the topics.
18	• of course, during school! • Math is not just specific for workplace to learn; all the students need to learn that during school because it is a fundamental part of learning of other subjects like physics so without that you won't be able to learn other things. Also it is not just about education., learning math at young ages will make the brain stronger and the stronger the brain is the healthier it is which will prevent some diseases such as amnesia and dementia at older ages. • The younger a person is, the better one's ability to learn the material is. Therefore, they can better grasp the information.
19	• I prefer to take classes in the morning. • I'm a morning person and I have a high performance in the morning so I will better grasp the materials and understand them. • If I take classes in the afternoon I might sleep in and waste my time but by taking classes in the morning i can use my afternoon in a more productive way by taking some sport classes or spending time with my friends and doing household chores. • Use my time efficiently
20	• In-person is more effective as you can understand better through Face to face and oral communication and you can read facial expressions that are not available in written comments. Misinterpretations/Intonation • Also, you can engage in a conversation and ask more specific questions about the feedback and wants solutions to work on weaknesses.

21	- I agree with the idea because in this way students will be encouraged to pursue a healthy lifestyle by eating nutritious food so their well-being and physical health can be guaranteed. Consequently, this improved well-being lead to better efficiency and productivity. Otherwise, after eating junk food they will always feel fatigued and exhausted and tired so they won't be attentive in classes so this adversely affect their performance. While eating healthy food will make the mind more sharp - PLAN B
22	In this way I will make sure that I'm following the topic and work in a correct direction and I can often get feedback and become aware of my weak points and try to eliminate them. Experience: I had to write a paper and my professor did not regularly check on me, as I didn't receive feedback i was not sure if I'm on the right direction and it was so devastating and exhausting for ma and at the end I receive a poor score on that course.
23	To clean rivers and ocean - Because water plays a key role in people's and animal's life. In this way, we can help to conserve our environment and a clear environment is contributed to the overall well-being of the people of the society. So by living in a cleaner environment our physical health will be guaranteed. - Moreover, cleaner rivers and ocean will make the environment more habitable for marine species. As many marine habitants are dying everyday due to the water contamination. In this way we can prevent this phenomenal from happening.
24	athletic facilities and stadiums this plan will increase students' engagement in athletic activities, and through participating in such activities students will acquire invaluable and employable skills such as team-working/decision making/ problem solving that can be fundamentally beneficial for their future career success. Moreover, by engaging in athletic activities they will pursue a healthy life-style which has everlasting effects on their lives. Unwind and relax after a hard day at school with heavy load work of assignments and homework. Through participating in athletic activities, will acquire (team working / problem solving / decision making) skills that can be fundamentally beneficial for our professional success later in life, as these are among sought-after skills by every employer. learn skills such as strategizing, teamwork and learn the thrill of victory and the pain of defeat, relate to everyday life (win some battles, lose others), learn fair play and sportsmanship, learn to sacrifice It can help them to follow a healthy lifestyle which has lifelong benefits

25	• International film festival • I think students through movies and films can better get familiar with different cultures and gain deeper insight into global perspective. For instance, my university held an international festival. I watched Indian and Arabic movies for the first time in my life. So, I gain knowledge about their culture, their language and the way they dress and even their religious ceremonies. So, I was intrigued and became interested to visit these countries.
26	• Soccer • Soccer is not just a sport through which you can unwind from stress or pursue a healthy life-style. You can and employable skills such as team-working/decision-making/problem-solving which is beneficial ... • Moreover, you can learn life lessons for instance you won't win every battle and will learn how to cope with failure
27	• Energy and environment • is of more importance than other topics to our modern world. Through knowledge I will gain in this course I can better help to conserve the environment. And a cleaner environment is contributed to better well-being of all the people. • Also I can learn how to manage world's energy resources and solve the ongoing energy problems. More importantly, I can educate youngsters and children with this acquired knowledge which can be more beneficial as their awareness increased.
28	• Theater performance by student actors • It is not only entertaining but also encouraging for both spectator students as well as students who are acting. Through these activities students cultivate a sense of accomplishments this will help them to feel better about themselves which will increase their self-confidence that is contributed to higher performance and productivity. • Moreover, these events give them an excellent opportunity to evaluate their talents and tendencies to make better decisions about their future career. some might find their interest in becoming an actor or a director or a playwright. • This will help to feel better about (themselves / ourselves), leading to increased self-confidence, which is directly related to our productivity. • This is an excellent opportunity to evaluate their talents and tendencies and make decision about their academic or occupational future with more confidence.
29	• Because I think a good night sleep is an essential part of high productivity during the exam. And without that I won't remember the materials and information I have already read. I can remember I stayed up late to study and the next day during exam I was bored all the time I even fell asleep for some minutes I couldn't concentrate and after that I received a terribly poor score which adversely affect my GPA.

30	- Written work is a more accurate assessment. During participating in class discussions some might feel stressed and can't deal well with the pressure of speaking in front of other students and this anxiety overtakes their ability to think and talk accurately and coherently and this will inaccurately reflect their performance and ability. - While written work is more suited to individual's strength and differences. And they have time to better reflect their true ability in an atmosphere with less pressure and stress.
31	- I personally will go with a cheaper house but a little far from the campus. - First because, as a student, I have a limited budget so I should manage that wisely. So I prefer to spend less on the rent in this case I can save a lot of money which I can spend on other important matters such as enrolling in extracurricular classes to improve my practical and hands-on experiences to enrich my resume for my future career. - Or I can use that money to buy a bicycle in this way it not only helps me to stay in shape and healthy but also helps me to commute to campus every day. In this case the further distance from the campus won't be a serious issue. - This can save us a lot of (time / energy / money) which we can spend on other important (activities / things / matters) such as
32	Less-known - In this case I can save a lot of money which I can spend on other important activities such as enrolling in classes in which I can acquire more practical and hands-on and employable skills which are not taught in any university and also will enrich my resume and can increase my chance of employment and can be fundamentally beneficial for my future career success - Or I can use that money to learn new skill like how to play a music instrument like violin which is not only fun but also relaxing as I can unwind all the pressures from the day at university.
33	- Writing paper - There are less anxiety and stress on the students. So they can better grasp the information regardless of the outcome, and reflect their abilities more successfully. - Moreover, for exams, just memorizing the materials can definitely guarantee a top score but for paper or projects you must go beyond the memorizing you need to gain an in-depth knowledge and ability to analyze them and create something from your own self which requires to study more effectively. - Furthermore, through papers and projects you should collaborate with other students which can be improve the process of learning for students. Creativity Time-management/ teamwork/ critical thinking
34	- It is more engaging so I'm more eager to do it with my heart so that can effectively increase my productivity. - Moreover, this assignment will give me an excellent opportunity to evaluate my tendency and desire to become an actor and maybe it gives me an incentive to pursue my future career in this area.

	• Furthermore, collaborating with a partner will increase my teamwork skill as well which is contributed to better performance as I can gat more insights about the play from another perspective. • This is an excellent opportunity to evaluate their talents and tendencies and make decision about their academic or occupational future with more confidence.
35	• I personally think experienced teachers plays a key role in the success of the school. • First of all, with experienced and knowledgeable teachers we can make sure that students are provided with proper education and in-depth knowledge. • Moreover, experienced teachers are aware of the on-demand knowledge and what this automated and digitized world needs, so they can better prepare them for the real-world demands and equip them with essential skills for their professional career. • So in this case, this high quality education will definitely lead to the success of the school. • Reputation/ better time management/ discipline •
36	• Cafeteria improvement • Has broader effects on students as all of them use the cafeteria every day. So it will benefit more people in a more substantial and meaningful way. For instance, a change in the menu by adding more kinds of healthy food can encourage students to pursue a healthy lifestyle and by eating nutritious food their well-being can be guaranteed. Also it will sharpen the mind which directly contributed to higher efficiency and productivity. • encouraged to pursue a healthy lifestyle by eating nutritious food so their well-being and physical health can be guaranteed. Consequently, this improved well-being lead to better efficiency and productivity. . Otherwise, after eating junk food they will always feel fatigued and exhausted and tired so they won't be attentive in classes so this adversely affect their performance. While eating healthy food will sharpen the mind and prevent mind from going blunt •
37	• I think learning these activities will cultivate a sense of independence and responsibility. As a result, this will help them to become a more reliable and independent person in the future. Also will increase their life experiences which can lead them to a more socially successful life. • Moreover, these are among essential skills which will prepare them for the real-world demands. Also will serve young people well in school and later in their future career. • + example

	• This (cultivates / establishes / develops) a sense of (responsibility / control / discipline / independence) in As a result, this will help them to become a more reliable (friend / spouse / parent) in the future. • This will lead them to a more socially successful life and prevent them from being socially isolated • These skills, among others, will serve this person well in school and later in his chosen career
38	• Creativity and imagination enables students to think out of the box and will give them a wider perspective to create new things and as a result they are better able to demonstrate critical thinking, decision making and problem solving which are among employable and essential skills that can meet the real-world demands. • Moreover, with great creativity and imagination they can better express and explore themselves which will make them a gregarious person in the future and this leads to a socially successful life and prevent them from being socially isolated.
39	• None of us can go backwards in time and choose our family members but we can choose our friends based on common interest and shared hobbies so we can develop a stronger bond between us and get along better with each other. • Personally speaking, I have a more meaningful and fulfilling relationship with my friends than my family. they make me feel accepted and valued and they are more considerate and sympathetic listener for me when I'm struggling with an issue. • But family members are sometimes overprotective and it's hard to set boundaries and they are constantly criticizing and want to change you. But friends accept you no matter what.
40	• Getting to know someone takes time you can't expect to know somebody just with first observation. People demonstrate their personality and true self and deep desires over time. • Moreover, in order to recognize their personality, you need to observe their reactions in different situation. For instance, how they behave when you are struggling with an issue. They support or help you in time of needs or just turn their back on you. Are they a safe place to share your emotions? Are they considerate and sympathetic listener? These are among the most significant parameters to know a person which all requires to be known overtime. • Show their true colors
41	• I think a lot of homework will hinder rather than help the process of learning. Since it puts too much pressure and stress on students, it will decrease their efficiency and productivity. • Moreover, students with a lot of homework can't engage in other activities and hobbies so they will miss the opportunity to expand their horizons to non-academic areas so they might lack some essential social skills later in their life. For instance, students who have time to play with their peers, will learn how to work in teams and how to cope with the feeling of defeat so they are more suited to the real-world demands. students should be allowed to decompress after a long day of classes and engage in other activities hone their social skills more effectively child who plays a team sport, for instance, learns things that are simply not taught in books, such as how to win and lose graciously, how to strategize with teammates, and how to face an adversary. More importantly, this child understands how to separate work and play time and know how to relax after a hard day's work. are given the opportunity to expand their horizons to non-academic areas are often better pupils and more attractive employees

42	- an interesting professor will be more engaging for me so I will follow the materials eagerly and a strict grading policy will encourage me to study more effectively and absorb the class materials diligently. Also gives me the incentive to be more hardworking and consistent in my studying. - From my own experience, I had a boring professor and the class was hard to attend and enjoy so I skipped a lot of classes and because of the loose grading policy I didn't have any incentive to study hard and at the end I got a terribly poor grade on that course.
43	- An outdoor camp night - It is more engaging and has a lot of interesting challenges which encourage students to work in teams and find the best solutions to overcome some of the difficulties of a camp life. For example, they will work together to build a campfire or set up the tent and even cool together. - They will also develop a sense of independence and responsibility as they learn to take care of themselves and protect their friends through unexpected situations. And from potential hazards.
44	- Professors - Because they are more experienced and knowledgeable so they can better help me with my questions and their answers are reliable so I can make sure that I'm following the materials in the correct direction while fellow students have the same knowledge as me so they can't see the problem from a holistic approach so their answers cannot be accurate and trustworthy. From my own experience, I had a problem in my assignment so I asked my friend and I continue my work based on his assumption and at the end the answer because of inaccurate assumption was wrong and I got a terribly poor grade on that assignment. - Shallow understanding
45	- Good idea - Through part-time jobs they can acquire more hands-on and practical skills and get familiar with work-environment and the real-world demands. - They can also enrich their resume which can be beneficial for their future career success. - They also can save money and spend the money on more important activities and hobbies. Moreover, they can learn how to manage money and their time and this ability will well serve them when they attend college.

46	I personally think that students should take their time and do not hurry in finishing their education. Because in this case they might miss other aspects of a student life. Such as hanging out with their colleagues, participating in extracurricular activities and joining voluntary clubs. So in this case their student life will be a fulfilling experience for them. While study more courses to graduate earlier will put too much stress on students and they will miss lots of other opportunities.
47	I think this policy will give the opportunity to the local communities to evaluate their tendencies and talents and desires and make decisions about their future academic life more meticulously. For example, when I was in high school I had the opportunity to attend some classes in one of the prestigious university in my city and there I got some serious insights about my future academic life I found my interest in studying mechanical engineering. If it wasn't for this opportunity I wouldn't be able to find my real interest to choose my major in the university.
48	- Because there are lots of students who needs a quite place to focus and concentrate to absorb the materials. And this will increase their efficiency and productivity and people meeting each other and have meetings will distract them and adversely affect their performance. - Moreover, there are other places except library that students can meet new friends and have meetings such as cafeteria, lobbies or lounges. For instance, I have my daily meetings in the student lounge and I found lots of new friends there while socializing.
49	I think age is not necessarily a determining factor for getting a university degree. The main factor is how much you are eager to learn by your heart no matter how old you are. For instance, many people start to work despite their desire to continue their studying, after many years when they save enough money they came back to pursue their desire they might be old a little but they are more experienced and enthusiastic and diligent and they are more likely to demonstrate a better performance than their younger colleagues .
50	- Tips on travelling it is more engaging and will be practical for their real-life. As they educate better they will avoid possible mistakes during their travels in the future so in this way they will have a more fulfilling experience and enjoy more. - Moreover, there are some tips on travelling such as how to manage time and money which is not only beneficial for their travels but also helpful for their personal life in day-to-day situations that can benefit students I different aspects of life .
51	- Separation - Co-educational residency halls provide an excellent opportunity which leads to better understanding of attitudes and interests between men and women. So students are more prepared for their suture social life as they engage in many men-women interactions. - And they are more likely to establish and develop meaningful and successful relationships in the future as they are more familiar with the opposite sex since they regularly interact with each other in a variety of moods and circumstances - Moreover this can effectively help them to find and solidify their sexual identity and develop a capacity for true intimacy for the opposite sexes.

52	• Video projects is more engaging and have more challenges in comparison to a paper and presentation. And I always welcome challenges because I would learn a lot of new practical skills for instance, a successful video projects requires more effective decision-making and critical thinking abilities so I will improve these abilities of mine. • Moreover, it helps me to be a more innovative thinker as I need to put my creative ideas into practice to make the video more engaging to get a top score.
53	• Game room • It is a good separation from school-life and it is a great way to unwind and relax from heavy work-load of assignments and exams, therefore, students can enhance their performance by revitalizing through games. • Moreover, game room is a great place for students to gather and socialize with each other which can enhance their communication skills as well as their network which can be beneficial not only for their personal life but also for their professional life.
54	• Morning person • As I am a morning person I have higher productivity in the mornings and during the day so I can understand and absorb the information and materials more effectively. But at night I'm sleepy and I can concentrate on learning new materials moreover I think a good night sleep plays an eminent role for the process of learning and help your mind to stay fresh and sharp during the next day. Based on my previous experiences, studying at nights did not suit at all.
55	• I think students who speak out in the classes are more likely to be successful in the future. • First, because by speaking out they will enhance their communication and critical thinking and public speaking skills which are among the most sought-after skills every employer is looking for and can be beneficial for their academic life as well as their professional life. • Moreover, by speaking up in classes they can make sure that they are following the materials and grasping the information in a correct direction and use professor's feedbacks to correct their misunderstandings which lead to higher performance in their studying.
56	• I personally prefer to use the video from the famous buildings as my final project first because I think video can present information in a more appealing and engaging way and can be more interesting not only for me but also for other students or my professor. • Moreover, as I have an artistic taste I can better express my pints of view through videos while I research and writing is too boring for me therefore I won't put my heart and effort into that.

57	• I prefer to take course in painting because through art and painting I can better express my feelings and true emotions which enables be to more mindful of my inner world which can be beneficial for my personal and social life. • Moreover, through painting I can enhance my creativity and imagination which can be beneficial for my future career success. • Also, I can gain deeper understanding into my hidden talents and unleash them. • Also it would be a great way for me in the future to unwind through artistic activities.
58	• Through part-time jobs they can acquire more hands-on and practical skills and get familiar with work-environment and the real-world demands. • They can also enrich their resume which can be beneficial for their future career success. • They also can save money and moreover they can gain some essential skills like time management that can serve them as an students inn the university.
59	• SAME AS 49 • I think age is not necessarily a determining factor for getting a university degree. The main factor is how much you are eager to learn by your heart no matter how old you are. For instance, many people start to work despite their desire to continue their studying, after many years when they save enough money they came back to pursue their desire they might be old a little but they are more experienced and enthusiastic and diligent and they are more likely to demonstrate a better performance than their younger colleagues.

60	• I personally think that film studies will be a good choice and attract more students. • First because in this modern world, big production companies like Amazon or Netflix are producing lots of movies and serials every year and it is becoming one of the most entertaining activities between young generation. therefore, more students are inclined to take courses that are aligned with their interests and hobbies. • Moreover, it can benefit them by helping them gain deeper knowledge of analyzing the movies and watch movies from a critical point of view and change them from a casual viewer to a professional viewer.
61	• I personally good idea • Its common students get hungry or thirsty • It would be waste of time to get out of the class to buy sth and eat also they will miss the lecture • By eating sth they can better focus and it will increase their productivity • For instance, whenever I get hungry during the class I lost my focus and I can't grasp the materials clearly • But as soon as I eat sth during the class I can be more attentive and focused on the lectures.
62	• I personally will go with first one • Morning person- focus better on the materials / demonstrate better critical thinking and analyze different aspects of the topic as I'm fresh and energetic after a good night sleep • But during the afternoon I'm bored and I can't focus/ in attentive/ • Also I prefer to spend my afternoon to do other things like sports or spending time with friends which are excellent ways to unwind after a heavy day.

63	• Choose career after taking some university courses • Before college students' personality has not shaped yet and they did not have great insight about their true talents desires and interests but after joining university and taking different courses they will gain clear and deeper insight to the work environment and their personal interest and make decisions more wisely. • For instance, before college I wanted to become a mechanical engineer but after I took some management courses during the university, I found my true interest in that field and I pursue my career in business and management.
64	• I personally prefer to choose the 20th century world history first because it is more engaging and beneficial for me especially for my personal life since the history repeats itself I can learn from the past events and eliminate the risk of failure and do not repeat the same mistakes. • Moreover, I will gain deeper insight into historical events around the world and interconnected global history and broaden my perspective and my understanding of the world I live in and become more aware.
69	• I personally disagree • A long summer vacation is a good separation from the school life and enables students to better unwind and relaxed from heavy work-load of assignments and tight schedule and they can better establish a school-life balance • Also, a long summer vacation gives them the opportunity to take some part-time jobs and gain hands-on and practical and employable skills which can be beneficial for their future career. Which won't be available during short holidays.

71	• I prefer to write many short assignments because • I can make sure I'm keeping up with the class and following the materials more precisely in this case I gain deeper knowledge of the course and better grasp the materials and be more attentive during the lectures. • By short assignments I can receive constant feedbacks and gain deeper understanding into my weak points and turn it into strength • Moreover, long assignments will make me bored and I will study in a shallow way • Gain higher grades despite little hard work. • Also through many assignments I can receive constant feedbacks from the professor and gain deeper understanding about my weak points and try to turn them into strength which will lead to higher performance and consequently higher GPA.
72	• I personally prefer to have classes during the morning and do part-time job in the evening • First because, as I am a morning person I can better focus and concentrate on materials during the day and better grasp the information and materials which leads to higher productivity also I will be more attentive and involved in class discussions. But if I do part-time job during the day and afterward go to class, I would be tired and bored and can't focus on the materials clearly. This will adversely affect my GPA and consequently my chance of getting a scholarship.
73	• I agree • There are lots of important skills like how to establish meaningful and fulfilling relationship with your family members or colleagues or other practical knowledge cannot be learned in classrooms. People have to go to the society and experience them by themselves while struggling with real-life issues. • Moreover, there are some important aspects of every individual life like how to be happy and mindful of your true desires and be able to manage them that cannot be taught during classes and books you have to face it in real-life situations.
74	• Disagree • In this way they will miss the equal opportunity to pursue a college or university education and this will adversely affect their personal and professional success. • Moreover, lots of students during the secondary school do not take classes seriously or are distracted by partying or other activities and some of them are facing difficulties like peer pressure or bullying that adversely affect their performance, but during college as they get wiser and can manage better their life and problems they will definitely show higher performance and secure a good position for their future career or academic life. • Have not found their purpose

76	• It is a great idea to study abroad • First because they can enhance their knowledge and life experiences • Also, it gives them the opportunity to broaden their network and global experiences which can be beneficial for their future career. • Also, they can learn new skills and new language which can enrich their resume and enhance their chance of future employment. • Moreover, by getting familiar with new culture and different people they can fight xenophobia and help to reduce racism.
77	• I personally prefer to take notes • It helps me to make sure that I'm following the materials and keeping up with class and this will cultivate a sense of discipline in me so I can better focus and concentrate on the materials which will lead to higher performance. • Moreover, some professors will present some important notes that cannot be found in textbooks by taking notes I can make sure that I won't miss any important information. • Moreover, by taking note I'm increasing some of my skills like multi-tasking ability as I can listen and write simultaneously and also improve my hand-eye coordination which can be beneficial for my future career as well.
78	• I personally prefer to go with an essay question first because I think it is a more accurate way to assess students' performance, while through multiple-choice questions, students often get score by blind-guessing. • Moreover, during an essay question you have to demonstrate a high quality of writing skills to ace the test. • Also, it gives students the opportunity to present and explain their ideas and points of view in a more detailed way and relate facts and principles and come up with a through answer which analyzed all aspects of the question.
80	• I personally agree • Because in this modern world, everything pales in comparison to time, and time is precious. Especially, university student must value the time and know how to manage it more efficiently in this case they will not only have fun, but also demonstrate higher performance in their exams and assignments. This will make their future and increase their chance of employment in a great and well-known company. • Also, a more efficient time-management enables them to establish a better work-life or school-life balance which will lead to higher life satisfaction and happiness.

82	• I personally prefer to go to universities in new cities and towns • It gives me lots of new opportunities, also I can broaden my perspective and get familiar with different people with different points of view and also, I can make new friends and enlarge my network which can be beneficial for my future career. • Also, living in new cities will give me a sense of independence as I can have my own apartment while living in my hometown means I have to stay close to my family which will create conflicts and problems. • Well-rounded personality
83	• I prefer to take a variety of courses • In this case I can gain wider perspective about different topics and better understand my tendency and talents and interests in various fields. And finally come up with a more meticulous decision about my future career. While taking specific courses will limit my point of view and I may choose a wrong career path in my life. • Also, a variety of courses would be more engaging and interesting so I won't get bored during classes and I will demonstrate a higher performance. • It gives more incentive to follow the materials and keep up with the class • Welcome challenges/ step out of comfort zone /I prefer to experience • Versatile= multi-talented-well-rounded= multiskilled
84	• SAME AS 63 • Choose career after entering university and studying for a period of time • By taking some courses in university they will gain wider perspective about different fields and also better evaluate and understand their tendencies and desires and consequently come up with a more meticulous decision about their future career. • Before college students' personalities have not shaped yet and they did not have great insight about their true talents desires and interests but after joining university and taking different courses they will gain clear and deeper insight to the work environment and their personal interest and make decisions more wisely. • For instance, before college I wanted to become a mechanical engineer but after I took some management courses during the university I found my true interest in that field and I pursue my career in business and management.
85	• I do not agree with the statement • There are many distractions in modern world in comparison to the past such as the Internet, social media and video games and students are spending most of their time on these more engaging activities and platforms. • Moreover, education in the past played a more important role in the lives of students, they depend on education to find a decent and high-paid job while now without any specific training people can have profitable jobs like bloggers or Youtubers.
86	• Live alone or with friends • First, we have shared hobbies and interests so we can spend our free time in the house doing mutual activities like playing video games. Moreover, I have more freedom so I can do whatever I want like holding a party or inviting my friends for a group study. • While studying with a local family have lots of privacy issues and sometimes race-related issues can make the experience of studying abroad an unpleasant memory. • We are going through the same things in life they are more considerate and supportive.

87	• Listen to music while studying or working • First, by doing 2 things simultaneously I can enhance my multitasking ability which is among the most sought-after skills every employer is looking for which can enhance my chance of employment. • Moreover, whenever I get bored or fatigued while studying by listening to music at the same time I can gain back by energy and unwind which will help me to better focus on the materials and I can better grasp the information.
88	• I personally think good idea to complete at least 40 hours of community service • First, this activity can benefit students in many ways first, provide them with a bigger environment with lots of people which enable them to enhance their team work skills and broaden their network and moreover, will help them to get familiar with different people with varied points of view or different races which will give them the opportunity to combat xenophobia or racism. • Moreover, it can enrich their resume which can enhance their chance of employment in their future career.
89	• I personally disagree • first because resources like textbooks or journals are available on the Internet and all the students around the world have free access to this information; therefore, resources cannot be a determining factor of the success of a school. • In contrast, knowledgeable and experienced professors and high and modern technology used in educational systems such as lab equipment, libraries and even recreation facilities like sport arena, gyms and other infrastructures play a more important role in the success of a school.
90	• I personally agree • First, students by using computers from primary schools will be well-adapted to this automated and digitized world. Also, by enhancing their computer literacy they can better suited to the real-world demands and enhance their chance of employment in their future career life. • Moreover, by getting familiar with computer literacy from early ages they will be equipped with great knowledge in using some important programs such as Word, PowerPoint and so on which can ease their path through their academic life as well.
91	• I agree • First, giving lower grades to students who hand in their assignments after the deadline will cultivate a sense of discipline in them and help them to value time-management and also it is a way to teach them to enhance their ability in establishing their school-life balance so as to meet the deadlines. And also learn how to prioritize their tasks and be more organized which can be beneficial for their personal and professional life as well. • Moreover, by not doing so it will discourage other students who submit their assignments early as they do not see any extra advantages in presenting their assignments earlier from the deadline.

	Hand in / submit/
92	• I think the best way to study is to attend a lecture • First, because lectures are hold by professors who are knowledgeable and experienced in their fields and know how to convey information in an effective way to students. • In contrast students by reading by themselves might face lots of difficulties and understand the materials in a wrong way, while, in a lecture students can ask questions which can be addressed and solved by professors and the misunderstandings can be eliminated. • Moreover, attending a lecture will fasten the process of learning while learning by ourselves can be time-consuming and less effective. • They can engage in discussion critical thinking/ group study/ Give/ hold/ present lecture
95	• I personally think it is a good idea • First of all, it is good for environment as there will be less paper to use. • Moreover, the online version of the textbook gives students a wider option for instance they can easily carry as many as textbooks they want in just a tiny hand-held devices with themselves wherever they want to go without being worry about the weight of them while paper textbooks are usually heavy and cannot be carried easily in backpacks. • Moreover, students can easily share the online textbooks with other students and it is more durable and gives them the option to highlight and add notes without being worry about the original version of the textbooks.

96	• I personally agree with the statement • First, students who work in groups for their assignments are well equipped with the essential skills needed for their future career success such as communicational skills and team work abilities which are among the most sought-after skills every employer is looking for. • Moreover, by working in group assignments they will learn how to cope with different ideas to reach their shared and desired goal. • Moreover, it is a great opportunity for them to get familiar with new ideas and broaden their perspective.
97	• I personally think it is a good idea to take exam at home • First, because taking exam at class will put too much stress and tension on the students and this will adversely affect their performance and they won't be able to demonstrate their true talents and abilities. • Moreover, taking exam from home will eliminate the need to commute to university which is not only good for environment but also good for the students as they have more time to get ready and study for the exam and become more prepared.
98	• I personally think it is not a good policy • First because school breaks are a good separation from the heavy work-load of assignments, lectures and exams and students need this time to spend in their own way so as to unwind and relax and take back their energy to attend the classes more attentively and effectively. • While, doing study-related work during school breaks will make them bored and frustrated which will adversely affect their performance.
99	• I personally think it is not a good policy • First, students can use their laptops to take note instead of using paper which has positive effects on environment as well. • Moreover, through their laptops they can search for online journals or have faster and wider access to information through the Internet. In this case, they will gain deeper knowledge and better grasp the materials. • Also, they can easily share information by their computers with each other.

Friends and Social Life

1	• Agree • Honesty is the fundamental part of any healthy and good relationship and friendship. Without complete truthfulness you can't entirely trust someone. Moreover, complete honesty leads to a stronger bond between 2 people and in this case the relationship would be more meaningful and fulfilling for both sides and without that the relationship will become shallow and meaningless. • For instance, I had a very close friend since high school but she wasn't completely honest with me and after some years this led us to be a full stranger to each other. • Disagree • I personally think it is not a good idea to be completely honest with our friends because by being totally honest and tell the truth we might hurt their feelings and this can adversely affect our relationship. For instance, when our friends ask us about their appearance, haircut, and so on by telling small lies we can maintain our relationship while by telling them the truth that they are ugly we definitely ruin our relationship. • Moreover, by telling small lies we can provide incentive for people to work harder. For instance, by telling someone that we believe in her and she can handle her problem although we might truly doubt her ability.
2	• I personally prefer to plan a social activity in advance because it gives me a sense of discipline and control and the act of being in control of something will mitigate the feeling of stress toward uncertainty and you are better prepared for unexpected challenges and situations. So you will have a more fulfilling experience. • During college We decided to go hiking with some of friends with no plans and we didn't even check the weather and suddenly a heavy rain started and it even gets more intense so we had to wait in a shelter until the rain stopped we didn't bring enough water and snacks and it was really exhausting and that was one of the worst experiences that I had in my life.
3	• I definitely prefer an informed visit because it gives me a sense of discipline and control so I can better plan and manage my personal stuff to provide an excellent hospitality for my friends. • From my experience, I had a very busy day at work and I had to work off-hours from the home to prepare a presentation and suddenly a friend came to visit me without telling me so it was a disaster since I not only couldn't be a good host, but also couldn't prepare my presentation so I showed a poor performance the next day at my business meeting. Work off-hours / work overtime

4	- I personally prefer to have different ages because in this way I can broaden my perspective by getting familiar with different personalities and points of view. This understanding not only helps me in my personal life to build more meaningful relationships, but also helps me to establish a friendly rapport with my colleagues, which directly leads to my career success. - Moreover, during difficulties when I'm struggling with an issue and I can't see the big picture, they can offer real-life examples of how bright the future can be despite the roadblocks and challenges and obstacles. Marriage issues! Cannot relate to just be a considerate and sympathetic listener
5	- I do not support the idea. - Because sometimes our friends are too shy to ask for help or mostly their pride forces them not to ask for help since they wrongly think asking for help gives others the impression of being weak, but they truly need our supports and we should be there for them and be mindful of their needs and help them. - For instance, I had a friend that recently lost his job and it was obvious he was facing severe financial strains but he couldn't ask anyone for money. So I offered him some money and he accept it with no hesitation and he later confessed that I almost saved his life and he was so delighted that I helped him since he would never ask anyone. sometimes they think they can manage the issue but in reality they can't overcome the challenge alone and shallow their pride
6	disagreement and conflicts are inevitable in any kinds of relationship and friendships. The key to maintain and strengthen the relationship is how to cope with differences in opinion not just being agreed on everything. For instance, you must be considerate and a good listener in order to make the other person valued and understood. - Moreover, disagreements can be beneficial since it enables to develop some essential social skills such as self-control so you have more control on your emotions and will learn how to cope with difference which can help you in your work environment as you are able to establish a great rapport with your colleagues.
7	- I personally prefer to do my homework with a group of people. - First because in this case I change the boring environment of doing homework to something more engaging as I'm enjoying other people's company. - Also, I can make new friends and socialize with different people and broaden my network. - Moreover, I can collaborate and cooperate with other people and use their help when I'm struggling with an assignment. So I can not only get a better score, but also improve my employable skills such as team-work and strategizing (strategic thinking) that can be beneficial for my future career.

8	• I absolutely will go with a party with my friends. • First because it is more engaging and fun. As I have lots of friends with common interests and shared hobbies we can better enjoy our time together. • Moreover, in this parties I can meet new people with different perspectives that can broaden my points of view and my network as well. • Personally speaking whenever I had a dinner party with my parents it ended up criticizing me for my plans or the way I'm leaving my life but with my friends they accept me no matter what.
9	• I personally prefer to celebrate special occasions with my friends. • First of all because I think its not about just celebrating it's an opportunity to show that you are grateful for what you have in your life like your friends and family. (Express your gratitude) • Also it can mitigate our sense of loneliness and become more mentally balanced. (extrovert person enjoy being in social activities) • Moreover, these occasions are great opportunities to meet new people and get familiar with different points of view, which will broaden not only your perspective but also your network that is definitely beneficial for your future career success. • That's WHY I AGREE WITH THIS POINT OF VIEW
10	• I personally prefer to spend my spare time with my friends. • First of all because I'm an extrovert person so I enjoy spending times and socializing with people. in this case I can develop my communicational skills as well which can be beneficial for my future career success. • Moreover, spending time with my friends will mitigate the sense of loneliness and stress also can prevent from being socially isolated or depressed. • It also increases my mood and gives me good vibes which can help me to be more productive in my career and studying. • Be up-to-dated and keep tracking of trends
11	• I personally prefer to carefully choose the gift which my friends like. • First of all, because I want them to enjoy their gift and love that/ do not want to make the gift about my own interest because maybe they do not like that. • Because I had this experience that I bought a T-shirt as a gift for one of my friends and I chose that in my favorite color and didn't pay attention to his taste so at the end he didn't like the gift that much and I didn't see him wearing the T-shirt after that. And this was one the most terrible experiences that I had so I decided not to repeat it again and now I put my friends taste first when it comes to buying a gift. • A way to express that you are mindful of their interests
12	• I prefer to use E-mails • First because it is more convenient since I have a busy schedule, communicating through texts and e-mails take less time from me. Moreover, I can check that and answer that at my own time. • I have lots of friends that are living in different countries so we have a serious issue regarding the time-difference. So it is hard to find a mutual and suitable time to call each other. Sometimes it's night there and they are sleeping while I'm here at work and calling them will definitely disturb them.

Family, Parents and children

1	• I disagree. I think parents should definitely encourage their children for such activities. • First because, engaging in these activities will better prepare them for their future life as an adult. Since they learn some essential skills such as how to cope with defeat, how to manage their stress and other more employable skills such as teamwork, decision-making and how to strategize which can be beneficial for both their personal life and professional life. • Moreover, children engaging in competitive activities will develop a more hard-working and diligent personality and will become more prepared for real-world demands as they can better compete for a job or position in the society.
2	• I personally think that they should be treated in a different way. • As they are gifted, they need more support and encouragement to make the most out of their abilities. It's parents' responsibility to create an atmosphere in which their children's talents could flourish. For instance, when I was a child at early ages I demonstrated an extraordinary talent in arts like creative drawings and paintings. And everyone told my parents that this kid is a genius you should treat her differently. But they ignored all them. And because of that I couldn't develop one my exceptional talents. If they have supported me, I would definitely become a famous artist.

3	- I think deep marine life can be more engaging and attractive for students. At that age, they haven't developed a tangible sense about technology or solar systems but all of them have the experience to go to the beach and become curious about what animals are living under water. Are they dangerous? So I think that would be more satisfying for them. For instance, as a child I was always interested in sharks and octopus and whales I always had lots of questions about them so such exhibitions would be so beneficial and interesting if I was a kid. - Get insight about their future career - Make decisions about their future career more wisely
4	- Parents should force them. - Because children in that age are not aware of long-term benefits and effects of an activity. They can't distinguish between the things that are beneficial for them or not. So they definitely need guidance and should help them by creating an atmosphere in which their talents could flourish. - For instance, when I was a child I was talented in playing piano in a genius way but I hated practicing so as my parents didn't force me I quit piano. But now as an adult I clearly see that if they had forced me to play piano, I would have become a great musician now. - Self-motivated/self-driven individual
5	- I personally think that parents should let their children make mistakes because in this case they are giving them an opportunity to struggle and become more resilient and adaptable person in the future. - Moreover, by letting them make mistakes and they will develop some essential social and emotional skills like coping with defeat and failure and decision making which can be beneficial not only for their personal life but also their professional life - Moreover, by making mistakes they will learn that there are consequences for each choice in life so they have to be more cautious and attentive which will prepare them for the real-world demands
6	- I disagree - Because this is absurd and a sheer waste of time since children at early ages do not have any tangible sense about news and events in the world. Also some of the news about wars and politics and crimes can be detrimental to their mental health as they might perceive the world as an unsafe and hazardous place to live which can kill their hopes and desires to grow up and chase their dreams. - Moreover, they can better use that time for more important things like playing with their peers or family members which can be more beneficial for their intellectual and cognitive developments.
7	- I agree because I think the most important part of a relationship between parents and children is to set boundaries and adhere to them. And they must be mindful of each other's rights, most important of which are privacy and security. - Moreover, parents by disrespecting and disregarding their children's privacy might cause some detrimental and irrecoverable impacts on their future life. - For instance, they might not be able to set healthy boundaries in their own relationships in the future, also might have some serious problems such as trust issues which will make them unsuccessful in establishing meaningful and fulfilling relationships.

8	• Keeping a Pet • This will cultivate a sense of responsibility as they learn to take care of the pet and feed them regularly so as a result they might become a more reliable friend and person in the future and well suited to the real-world relations that requires responsibility and duty to others. • Moreover, a pet can provide companionship for children particularly (specially) for a single-child. so it can mitigate their sense of loneliness and prevent from being socially isolated. • Also, playing and taking care of animals will help them to develop a true sense of intimacy for others in their future relationships. Single child families- only child- only children develop a capacity for true intimacy for the opposite sexes.
9	• Children do not have serious responsibilities and duties to others but adults are dealing with real-world problems, financial stress and this put too much pressure on them which will make them less satisfied with their lives. • But kids are free of such responsibilities, they live in their own world and perceive the world as a peaceful place with no difficulties. Moreover, they just spend times with their peers playing their favorite games with no fear and concern of what happens next.
10	• Doing household chores • I personally think that children by doing household chores will cultivate a sense of responsibility. For instance, by doing activities like cleaning their rooms or doing their own laundry or helping other members of the family to make dinner or launch they would learn how to take care of themselves and be responsible for satisfying their basic needs. They will also develop some essential skills such as team-working, time management and planning and setting priorities which will make them to be a more reliable and responsible person in the future which can be beneficial for their future career as well as their personal life. • For instance, by helping their family members in making launch or dinner they will learn in long-term how to cook and do not consider an activity like cooking to be their mom's or father's responsibility. • Tasks that personally affect your kids, such as cleaning their room or doing their own laundry, can help them become more self-reliant at the same time. • there are consequences when you don't meet each other's expectations. Learning these lessons at home, where mistakes are more easily forgiven, can help kids develop strong teamwork skills to use at school or work. • Chores help reinforce respect/ help build a strong work ethic • help improve planning and time management skills • set priorities and manage their time, important skills for the working world. • Chores give families a chance to bond • Little ones who always want to help will feel important and receive a self-esteem boost, and moody teens may decide to open up over a shared task.

11	• I personally agree and I think through participating in sports they will acquire some essential skills which lead them to be a more socially developed person. • For instance, they learn teamwork, strategizing, planning and how to cope with failure and most importantly how to work and cooperate with others for achieving a mutual goal which can help them in their professional life as well we their personal life. • Moreover, sports teams provide an excellent opportunity for children to make new friends and develop their social and communicational skills.
12	• Being selfish can be one of the most negative traits displayed by children. And if parents do not address and curb this misbehavior, that would lead to detrimental effects on their future life as they might lack some essential social skills. • For instance, self-centered children might find it hard to make friends and sustain their friendships so this will adversely affect their social and communicational skills. • Consequently, they might face difficulties in establishing fulfilling and meaningful relationships in the future which will increase their sense of loneliness and might lead to depression. • Develop/establish/gain reputation
13	• I personally agree • I think this will cultivate a sense of independence so they will become a more independent and self-reliant person in the future which can be beneficial not only for their personal life, but also for their professional life. • Moreover, by visiting their relatives and friends they will strengthen their bond with them and maintain a more meaningful and fulfilling relationship. Also they can meet new people with different perspective and make new friends and enhance their social and communicational skills. And mitigate their sense of loneliness.
14	• I prefer to spend time with family rather than study or work. Because I think our social life plays a key role in our mental health and well-being. Participating in family activities can mitigate our sense of loneliness and prevent us from being socially isolated. Moreover, it is an excellent opportunity to unwind and relaxed from all the stresses and pressures from work or university. • Moreover, by spending time with our family members we can strengthen our bond and build a more meaningful and fulfilling relationship with them. And become more considerate and supportive when they are struggling with an issue and need our help. Be considerate of
15	• I agree • I think drawing and paintings are among those activities in which children are able to demonstrate and develop their creativity and imagination and become a more innovative person in the future which can be beneficial for their future career success. • Moreover, through paintings and drawings they can better express their thoughts, desires and feelings which make them more mindful of their inner world and this will drastically increase their self-awareness and this will able them to stablish more meaningful and fulfilling relationships in their future life.

	• Find/achieve/reach Inner peace
16	• It an effective way to give students an incentive to study harder and be more diligent and hard-working. So they will try to be more attentive in classrooms and will grasp the materials more effectively. • Moreover, rewarding them will make them feel valued and this will increase their self- confidence and self-esteem. • Moreover, they can save money and become more familiar with – money management- the concepts of money and how to manage and spend it wisely. This skill can be beneficial for their future life as they are able to better control their finances.
17	• I personally prefer a big family because in this case you have more people to support you and be there for you when you are struggling with an issue and you need help. • Moreover, in big families you have the opportunity to get familiar with different perspectives and understand how to cope with that and be open to different ideas also demonstrate more developed social skills such as team-work, which can be beneficial for your future life. • You can better get along with other people and this will cultivate a sense of patience and tolerance. • Also, children in big families always have someone to talk to or play and spend time with so that would drastically mitigate their sense of loneliness • Only children may have a more difficult time socializing, sharing, or having empathy for others. As adults, your kids also have the advantage of adult sibling relationships
18	• I agree because I think in this automated and digitized world, the sooner you improve and develop your computer literacy skills, the sooner you become successful and more suited to the real-world demands. • Moreover, electronic devices can stimulate imagination and creativity so children will become more innovative in their future life which can be beneficial for their future career. • Moreover, games and other applications on electronic devices can promote children's cognitive and intellectual development. • Also, it will develop some essential skills such as strategic thinking and hand-eye coordination which lead to higher productivity in their studies. • Even for children younger than preschool age, electronic devices can help to stimulate the imagination and senses. • Some electronic use may promote language and listening and help a child learn sounds and speech.

	- Electronic devices and games may encourage cognitive learning and the development of analytical skills. - This may in turn help children build innovative thinking and investigation skills, strategic thinking, and creativity. - Using computers may improve manual dexterity. - Mastering games builds confidence and develops hand-eye coordination. - Building computer literacy is an important skill in today's world. - Games that encourage players to move up levels and earn high scores may help develop mathematical and engineering skills, as well as the motivation to meet goals
19	- I personally prefer to get advice from my parents and grandparents since I know they are more experienced and their advice is more reliable while my friends have the same knowledge and life experience as me and cannot see the problems from a holistic approach so their advice or solutions might not be reliable. - Moreover, parents are more considerate and caring in comparison to my friends so they can better support me when I'm struggling with an issue. - Also, my parents have deeper understanding of my needs and issues so they can better help me and give me practical advice.
20	Household Tasks/chores - I personally think that children by doing household chores will cultivate a sense of responsibility. For instance, by doing activities like cleaning their rooms or doing their own laundry or helping other members of the family to make dinner or launch they would learn how to take care of themselves and be responsible for satisfying their basic needs. They will also develop some essential skills such as team-working, time management and planning and setting priorities which will make them to be a more reliable and responsible person in the future which can be beneficial for their future career as well as their personal life Strengthen the bond between family members
21	- Big city - Big cities are provided with better opportunities for children for instance, vast entertainment options like zoo, museum and theater they can better enjoy their spare times. - Also they have easier access to high-quality educational system and medical care which bring them more convenience in life. - Moreover, high cultural diversity in big cities provide an excellent opportunity for kids to enhance their social and communicational skills and become more familiar with different cultures and opinions and therefore in the future they might become a more open-minded person and accept other people's lifestyles more easily. - Become more suited to the real world.
22	- Travel with family - As parents are paying for the expenses, I can save money and spend that on more important things like buying souvenirs. - Moreover, travelling with family members can be more fun as we can enjoy our time together and build life long memories furthermore we can share our happy moments with each other which make the travel more satisfying.

- Moreover, spending more time with family members can strengthen the bond between them; they get the chance to know each other in different and unexpected situations so their relationship will be more meaningful and fulfilling.

Jobs, Part-time Jobs, Work Environment, Schedule

1	• I personally prefer the high salary job • Because first I think everything pales in comparison to money. High salary is security and provide comfort and convenience for me and my family. • Moreover, I can save money for my retirement age without being worry about costs of living. I can make sure that I can pay for medical expenses and provide better education for my children. • Also, a high salary gives me a wide variety of options and lifestyle choices. I can afford a nice car and bigger house which will directly lead to my happiness. • Also, gives incentive to work hard which can increase my productivity.
2	• In this automated and digitized world using technology such as video conference call brings more convenience in work environment. And gives you a wider option for instance you can have business meetings from home. So you can better set your own schedule which improve your work-life balance which directly lead to better performance at work. • Moreover, there is no need for unnecessary long commute, otherwise you might get stuck in rush hour traffic or crowded public transportation, which is frustrating and can adversely affect your efficiency during the meeting. Also you can use that time that you might waste on commuting for a better preparation for the meeting. rush hour traffic, crowded public transportation
3	• I personally prefer to be checked by my manager occasionally. In this case they are respecting my organizational autonomy which directly leads to a higher job satisfaction so I will be more productive and committed to my company as I feel more valued and respected. • Moreover, by checking me constantly I will be disturbed and lose my concentration on my work also gives me an extra pressure as I think they might not be satisfied by the quality of my work. So adversely affect my job performance. • While checking me occasionally will assure me I'm following directions properly and I can get instructive feedbacks on my work and apply them to decrease my weak points. Mitigate weakness and turn them into strength.
4	• I personally prefer to start a project as early as possible. • I can better manage my time and schedule and maintain a better work-life balance and this gives me a sense of discipline and control which can mitigate the pressure and worries. So I can be more attentive in my job and better focus on the project and present a higher performance. • For instance, I used to procrastinate and wait until the last minute to start the project. So this put too much pressure and stress on me which adversely affect not only my mental and physical health, but also my work performance, which even enforced me to quit my job.

	Procrastination is associated with a variety of dangers and negative effects, including worse academic performance, worse financial status, increased interpersonal relationship issues, reduced wellbeing, and worse mental and physical health. wait until the deadline = wait until the last-minute
5	• I personally prefer to work in a large company • First of all, there are thousands of employees which give me a great opportunity to make new friends and get to know different people with different points of view and this will increase my social and communicational skills as I become able to cope with different personality and improve my tolerance and establish a good rapport with my colleagues. • Also, a big company is more potential to offer job promotions. Also working in a big company can greatly enrich your resume can be beneficial for your future career success if you are seeking a new job or position. Easily move up the hierarchy of a company Provides more benefits and opportunities like training programs which can be beneficial for your career growth. Big companies have a clear hierarchy of power and a structured measure of success which enable you to move up the career ladder/the hierarchy. Prepare the ground for promotion/career growth/ moving up the career ladder More competitive so gives you incentive to be more diligent and hard-working to ac Is more potential to offer you a promotion. larger companies tend to have more stability and more opportunities to grow within the company. After all large companies typically have a structure in place to move up the career ladder. The measures of success are likely to be more structured companies offer more professional development opportunities through training programs. opportunity for career growth /more benefits
6	• I personally prefer to work as a librarian • First of all, as I am a book worm, it was a life-long dream of me to work in a library so in this case I have wide access to all the books that I didn't have the opportunity or the time to read. • Moreover, I can transfer my knowledge of books to other people and also can gain a lot of invaluable experiences about books which will give me a sense of satisfaction. • Also, broaden my network and get familiar with other people who are obsessed with books so we can create a group and set weekly meeting and read and analyze different books and novels together.
7	• I agree • As in business environment we spend long hours in close contact with our colleagues and clients it is vital establish a good rapport with coworkers and a better customer relation. And the key to maintain this is to be outgoing and friendly. • Having an outgoing/gregarious attitude, enables workers to better relate to others and demonstrate a great deal of empathy and tolerance and patience in work environment and more importantly be an effective team-member. Which all of these will directly lead to higher work efficiency and be successful in business.

	• as office staffs work longer hours in close contact and thus need to develop good relations. • workers often spend more time together than they do with their families, making relationship building crucial • learn to relate to others and to develop tolerances • (interaction, tolerance, patience, empathy, cooperation), teamwork, • spend many hours with co-workers, • requires an outgoing attitude • better customer relations
8	• I do not agree • As in business environment we spend long hours with our boss or manager, having a close friendship make the environment friendlier and harmonious which directly leads to higher performance. • Moreover, if a manager establish close friendship with employees and demonstrate a great deal of empathy and tolerance and patience toward them, their organizational commitment will drastically increase as they feel valued and this strong manager-employee relation translate into higher efficiency of workers and less staff turnover.
9	• I personally prefer to depend on others help. • First because in this complex worlds with unexpected situations it is vital for people to be able to ask for help and assistance. • And sometimes it is hard to overcome a challenge all by ourselves and by asking for help we can use others ideas and came up with a better solution to solve our problem. • Moreover, by trying to tackle the difficulties without any helps, it is more likely to fail and this will adversely affect our self-confidence. • By using other's help we can solve the solution easier and this will mitigate the sense of pressure and stress while struggling with an issue.
10	• I personally prefer to leave myself a lot of free time • First of all because a tight and fully arranged schedule put too much stress and pressure on me so I cannot concentrate on my work and be attentive. Also it adversely affects my mental health and physical health as well. Which directly lead to poor performance. • Moreover, by having a lot of free time I can manage my life better and unwind all the work-related pressures and also maintain a better work-life balance which translate into higher efficiency in my work.
11	• I think it is not acceptable first of all because it is not moral, people should get a job based on their merits and qualifications. By using others influence to secure a job, they will take away the chance of people who are truly deserve to take the job. • For instance, we had this experience that someone got a position in our department based on his relationship with the manager, he wasn't adept in doing the job and this lack of merit put the company into a big trouble so finally they had to fire him.

12	• I personally will consider work experience the most important part. • Because I think work experience tells a lot about some body's qualification for anew job. For instance, if a person demonstrates a great performance in his/her last job he will be more likely to be a great match to the new environment. As he/she is provided with essential and hands-on skills needed for the work environment. • Moreover, the performance during the interview and the education is not an accurate way to assess someone's merit to gain a position. • For instance someone might has a great charisma but is not adept in his job so based on the performance during the interview he might absolutely get the job but lack essential skills.
13	• Work more freely • First, it gives me the opportunity to set my own schedule and improve my work-life balance and use my time efficiently for instance set my breaks and other important things like making launch which is not only healthier but also cheaper. • Moreover, regular working hours will make me feel pressured and bored which adversely affect my mental health and productivity, but working more freely enables me to unwind after a tight schedule or heavy work-load so I will be more efficient at my work.
14	• Being a detective • First of all because it is based on real-life stories and problems for instance a homicide case which is like a puzzle and a detective is a person that must solve that puzzle and find the murderer using all the collected information from witnesses. • Moreover, this job demands a great deal of critical thinking, attention to details and understanding of human behavior and psychology and also you are constantly dealing with challenges and u have to overcome them which make it more interesting.
15	• I agree • First because people at age 65 are not able to work hard and efficiently so their productivity will be decreased drastically and this adversely affect company's success. • Moreover, people at that age mostly settled into routines and lack fresh and creative ideas, so they do not adapt well to the changing market demands and make it hard for their company to maintain the competitive edge in this changing world. • Moreover, companies by retiring people at age 65 provides job opportunities for younger people who are seeking a job and help the economy.
16	• I personally prefer to work for other's company. • First because owning a company means a lot of responsibility and a tight schedule while working for other's gives you more freedom in work so I can better establish a work-life balance and use my time to do more other important thing like spending time with my friends and family. • Moreover, owning a company and dealing with rivals put too much stress on the owner while as a worker of other's company I will dealing with less work-related stress and my mental health can be guaranteed. • Higher job security

17	• I agree. • First I think by listening to music they can unwind the pressures from the heavy work-load of the day and mitigate the sense of stress and pressure and be more productive. • For instance, whenever I listen to music during the work I can better relax my mind and concentrate on my work more efficiently. • Moreover, listening to the music and working simultaneously will develop their multi-tasking skills which is among the most important in-demand skills each employer is seeking. •
18	• I personally prefer to make detailed plans as it cultivates a sense of discipline and control and by being in control of something I can better manage my time and effort and this will mitigate the sense of stress and pressure which contributes to higher productivity. • For example, I used to focus on the present with no plans so I got frustrated and exhausted and this decreased my self-confidence which adversely affected not only my mental health but also my productivity. Which led me to change my style and plan meticulously.
19	• High Salary • I personally prefer the high salary job • Because first I think everything pales in comparison to money. High salary is security and provide comfort and convenience for me and my family. • Moreover, I can save money for my retirement age without being worry about costs of living. I can make sure that I can pay for medical expenses and provide better education for my children. • Also, a high salary gives me a wide variety of options and lifestyle choices. I can afford a nice car and bigger house which will directly lead to my happiness. • Also, gives incentive to work hard which can increase my productivity.
20	• I think being a doctor is the hardest. • First because it entails considerable risks. As you are dealing with people's lives and a simple mistake might cause irrecoverable damage to their health for instance, wrong diagnosis might have detrimental effects on people's health and even might cause unexpected death. • While an early accurate diagnosis enables doctors to detect some serious diseases like cancer sooner, and by providing successful treatment they can save people's lives. • Moreover, they less working-time autonomy they have to be on-call most of their times which makes it hard to maintain a work-life balance. Make/reach/provide/confirm/receive/ accurate/early/wrong/incorrect diagnosis Successful treatment Entail/incur/take/face/ considerable/ substantial/tremendous/ risks

21	• Teachers • First because they are dealing with youth and children who are the next generation. And it is crucial to provide them with proper education and knowledge as they are creating the future of the world. • Moreover, teachers have big responsibilities for instance, they must guide the students to determine their true desires and talents and help them to flourish them and find their way to the future. • Furthermore, teachers must provide students with essential and employable skills needed for their future career so as to be suited well to real-world demands. • Make sure students are developing a sense of intimacy toward others which will lead them to be a more responsible and considerate member of the society.
22	• I personally agree • As we spend most of our time in the workplace doing our job it is important to do sth that is along with our interests and passions. In this case we will cultivate a sense of accomplishments and fulfillment which directly leads to life satisfaction and happiness. • Otherwise, doing a job that we do not love put too much stress and pressure which can adversely affect our mental health and the quality of our life and leads to unhappiness. While doing a job that we love gives an incentive to overcome the challenges and manage the stress better and become more productive and consequently more happy.
23	• I personally prefer to get a job • It gives me the opportunity to develop some essential and employable skills which can be beneficial for my future career. • It also can enrich my resume and enhance my chance of employment. • Moreover, I can gain some hands-on and practical experiences that can be beneficial for both my personal life and professional life. • Also, I can save money and spend that for other important things for instance enrolling in some technical training programs to strengthen my resume.
24	• I personally prefer to be a leader • First because I have great managerial skills with effective communication skills and high ability in planning, critical thinking and also I'm diligent and competent so all the group member will benefit from having me as a leader and we can reach a great productivity. • Moreover, being a leader can cultivate a sense of discipline and control in me and this leads to higher self-confidence and gives me a sense of satisfaction and fulfillment which will lead to higher efficiency in my job.
25	• I personally prefer to do one project at one time, first because in this case I can better focus and concentrate on my work and this gives me a sense of discipline and control and by being in control of something I can better demonstrate my productivity. • It also gives me the opportunity manage my time better and establish a better work-life balance and better control my stress while doing several jobs simultaneously put too much pressure and stress on me and it can adversely affect my mental health and consequently my performance which can lead to a decline in life and work satisfaction.

26	• A flexible time • It gives you the opportunity to have more working-time autonomy and manage your time better t also enables you to set your own schedule which all will lead to higher performance in work place. • It also mitigates the sense of pressure and tension on the workers which can affect their mental and physical health in a positive way in this case increase their job commitment and satisfaction. • Also, you are able to establish better and more effective work-life balance and in this case you can reach both life and job satisfaction at the same time.

Government, Country and City Policies/Problems

1	• I personally think that government should invest in Education. • First of all, because educations play a key role in individual's life. governments by investing in educational systems make sure that all the people are provided with high-quality educations, in this case will benefit both the individuals and the whole society. Since, the educated people from this strong system will better suited to the real-world demands and make greater contribution to the society, which all lead to better economic growth and technological and scientific development which will make the country more powerful.
2	• I personally agree • First of all, because their well-being will be improved consequently it will decrease the rate of some disease like cancers and heart diseases and obesity which all mainly stem from unhealthy life-style. And in this case it will mitigate the need to investing more in health-care so enables the government to invest in other important areas like education and economy and infrastructures. • Moreover, people with healthier life style will better contribute to the society and to their work-environment since a healthy body leads to healthy mind and they would be more productive.

3	• I strongly disagree with this idea • The city park as the only source of green space is the best place for people to unwind and relax after a heavy day at work or school. It also a great opportunity to connect with nature and be more mindful of your inner world. in this case, their mental health can be guaranteed and they will be more productive and efficient in their work. • It also a great place for children to play and spend their spare time instead of spending time indoors playing video games. • Also, they can meet new people and increase their communicational skills.
4	• I agree because in this case government can deter people from doing these kinds of high-risk activities. Which can lead to a decline in fatal accidents. • Moreover, people who are inattentive and use mobile phones while crossing the street will pose a major risk to the lives of other people and themselves. By fining them we can make sure that they receive punishment. And it will be fair to the people in the society. Ensure the fairness in the society • Moreover, it is a great way for government to increase its revenue and use that money to invest in other important areas like health, infrastructures, and environment.
5	• I personally think that a developed educational system contributes the most to a country's success. • First because, a high quality educational system will benefit the individuals with great knowledge and in-demand and employable skills and make them better suited to the real-world which can be beneficial for their future career. • Moreover, people graduated from a developed educational system can make big changes to the world which can lead to economic growth and technological and scientific developments which will make the country more powerful and successful. Prosperous
6	• I personally agree • Because it has harmful effect on children's mental health and behavior. In this case government can protect them from these harmful materials and make the media a safe place for children. • For instance, children might learn bad and abusive and offensive language and use them while speaking with their teachers/ friends or parents and this will make a bad image of their personality in other people's mind. And they might face difficulties in finding friends as students might avoid spending time with them.
7	• Agree • Job opportunities will lead to an economic growth. And the city will become more successful and prosperous by bringing lots of money and advantages to the city and all which will benefit not only the people but also the local organizations and government. So in this case they can use the extra money coming from this revenue or benefits of having this factory, to allocate to control the environmental issues and try to the conserve the environment in this case the problem regarding the pollution would be solved.
8	• Same as 1 • I personally think that government should invest in Education. • First of all, because educations play a key role in individual's life. governments by investing in educational systems make sure that all the people are provided with high-quality educations, in this case will benefit both the individuals and the whole society. Since, the educated people from this strong system will better suited to the real-world demands and make greater contribution to the society, which all lead to better economic growth and technological and scientific development which will make the country more powerful.

Technology(9 blue)

1	• Read the directions • It gives me all the information needed to use the device and I will make sure I'm using the device in a correct way and I won't cause any damage to the device. • For instance, when I first bought my computer, I tried to figure out how to use that by my own, so I wrongly deleted some important data which caused serious software problems to the computer and costed me lots of money to fix that again. • Also, using the direction info can save lots of time
---	--

	The computer/device hung Hanging problems
3	• Library is unnecessary • Because first of all in this modern world, time is everything and new technologies and internet provide us with lots of information in a split second. While looking for a specific book in a library takes a lot of time and sometimes you cannot find the book you need in a library and must go to another library which is more time consuming. • Also, through internet and hand-held devices you can carry and store lots of books and information, while through libraries you have a limited number of books to borrow. • Also, libraries and printed books are less environment friendly.
4	• First of all, electronic devices give me the opportunity to highlight the important parts of the books or add notes and delete them immediately without being concerned about the original version which can be maintained intact. While in paper books the marks cannot be removed. • Also, I can carry and store lots of e-books just in a tiny hand-held device wherever I want without being worried about their weight. While I cannot carry for instance more than 3 or books with me.
5	• First because, new entertainment programs based on new technologies like video games and social media are more engaging especially for new generation. it is full visual aspects with lots of creative stories that attract all the attention. While reading books is getting more boring even people prefer to watch the movies created based on books, instead of reading the book version. • Also, books are less effective in entertaining someone. For instance, I get bored easily by just reading 30 minutes a day while I can play video games all the day and still feel fresh.

7	• I am adept in computer literacy know how to code or use Microsoft office or photoshop or other computer skills so I can secure a competitive edge in these jobs over others • With Computer jobs it is more likely to be able to work remotely and in this case, I can set my own schedule which leads to a more work-life balance • Also, working by computers means I can keep up with this fast-paced world and better suited to the real-world demands.
8	• Brings convenience lots of opportunity • Taking photos or texting • It makes communication easier • For instance, I every day talk to my sister who is living abroad and this distance does not affect our relationship thanks to cell phones • Also, it makes doing business easier you can call your clients or launch a video meeting with your colleagues where ever you are. •
10	• Promote sedentary life style cause serious problems like obesity or heart disease • They can use that time for other important activities like sports studying or taking part time jobs which provided them with essential skills needed for future careers and they will be better suited to the real-world demands • Real world experiences like sports learn valuable lessons cannot be learned during playing
11	• Yes • Convenience • Like shopping online avoid the need for unnecessary commute • Make communication easier you can call friends and families abroad • You can work remotely and set virtual meeting with colleagues instead of working from office help to establish better work-life balance
12	• Electronic • Easy to carry you can carry lots of books without being worried about their weight while it is not possible with paper books • Highlight or add notes and they can be deleted immediately and the original version is still intact. • Also, it is more durable while paper books can be easily damaged by water tea. • Easily send to other peoples while I cannot easily lend or borrow the books but I am worried it might be damaged • Paper printed books--- accidentally spill sth on them and they could get ruined

Entertainment and Personal Interests, Celebrities, Exercise and Social Media, Hobbies(all blue)

1	• Participate in performance theatrical or musical shwas • It gives the opportunity to better evaluate my talents and tendencies and find my passion and interest so I will come up with a wiser decision about my future career. For instance, it gives me incentive to become a playwright. • Also, being involved in such activities helps me to better express my feelings and therefore establish more meaningful relationships in the future and also I will demonstrate a high level of creativity and this will improve my imagination and other essential skills like team-work skills which can be beneficial for my future career success as well.
2	• I personally agree and think we should not talk about the private activities of popular people • First of all, because we must respect and value their privacy, security and boundaries and by talking about their personal activities or gossiping we are intruding on their lives and privacy. • For instance, there are lots of movie stars who are devastated by other people constantly talking about their personal life and even people's intrusion into their personal life adversely affects their relationships and lives. • Moreover, from our perspective, our time is precious and we should not spend that on these meaningless activities. • Invade sb's privacy /intrude on
3	• I personally prefer to spend little money on vacation • First of all because I think it is a waste of money and I can spend that on cheaper activities to unwind and relaxed. • Moreover, I can use the money to spend on other important activities like enrolling in a practical class or starting new skills to learn to enrich my resume which can be beneficial not only for my personal, but also for my professional life. • Moreover, I can save money for my retirement age and make sure all my children can attend college and I can afford costs of living and medical expenses while I am old and have a limited budget.
4	• I personally prefer to take lots of pictures or write diaries when I am travelling because I can make sure I am capturing all the happy moments and preserving those memories and by sharing those happy moments with others. • Moreover, when I come back from the trip those pictures can evoke those lovely moments. • For instance, whenever I have a tight schedule and I am frustrated by lots of work I o to see the pictures of my previous trips and those will evoke lots of appealing memories which can boost my mood and help me to keep going regardless of the difficulties. Preserve/ record/recall/ bring back/ evoke Memories

5	• I personally, disagree first because I think most of celebrities do not pursue a healthy and acceptable lifestyle, most of them have drug or alcohol issues and this lifestyle and excessive use of alcohol become sth common and acceptable in young people's mind. • Moreover, most celebrities do not have a successful relationship and even have issues in establishing meaningful and lasting relationships, because of this lots of their relations lead to divorce or separation. And also, this behavior might become common and admitted in young people which will adversely affect their personal lives. • Promote consumerism as they spend lots of money on luxury materials.
6	• Go every day • Because pursuing a healthy life or doing sports needs consistency; and if I want to build the perfect body, I must exercise regularly in order to achieve the desired result. • Moreover, as I have a hectic life, exercising everyday is a great way for me to unwind and relax from all the tensions and pressures at work. • Also, as I have lots of friends at gym, by going everyday there I can enhance my social skills and mitigate the sense of loneliness by socializing and spending time with them.
7	• I do not agree • I personally think that famous people are just ordinary people. The only difference is the way they behave towards problems and difficulties that make them famous. For instance, we can see them during their lives when they face problems or issues they struggle, fight and keep up going and they do not give up easily as most of us do. This makes them exceptional and their story can encourage other people to fight for their dreams and their rights and do not become disappointed easily and maybe one day they become famous.
8	• I personally think it is a waste of time • First, because we can use that time and spend on other important things like learning a new skill or a new language which can enrich our resume and can be beneficial for our professional life. • Moreover, watching TV can promote sedentary lifestyle which might lead to obesity and adversely affect our physical health. While instead we can engage in athletic activities which can be beneficial for not only our physical health but also our mental health as enables us to unwind and relax from all the tensions of the work-place.
9	• I personally prefer to listen to recorded music first of all because I can replay them as many times as I want; also it gives me the opportunity to adjust the sound level. Because I do not like listening to loud music while a live music can be noisy and loud which can bother me. • Moreover, for listening to live music like concerts I have to buy tickets and as a student with a limited budget I cannot afford that. I can save that money and buy myself a great music player or headphones to listen to music with better quality.

10	• I personally prefer to go different places and spend little time there • First, because it has lots of variety and gives me different opportunities to experience new things, get familiar with lots of new people with different cultures and broaden my network therefore it is more engaging and fun also I can create lots of happy memories. • While spending time for a long time in one place can be boring and I cannot unwind and relax efficiently and after the vacation I would be still bored. • Life is short and world is wide and I want to visit as many places as I can to satisfy my inner desire to experience new things.
11	• I personally agree with the statement first because I think this will promote sedentary lifestyle which can lead to obesity and other obesity related diseases. • Moreover, they can use that time to do other important things to unwind for instance engaging in athletic activities and doing real sports which can be beneficial not only for their personal life but also for their professional life as enables them to improve their communicational skills and team work skills.
12	• I personally prefer to do indoor activities like yoga first because it gives me wider options as I can do these activities where ever and whenever I want; without being concerned about the weather condition. While I cannot do basketball in rainy days for instance. • Moreover, indoor activities bring more convenience for me as I can establish my own schedule and, in this case, I can improve my work-life balance and better unwind through these activities than out door ones.
13	• I personally prefer to listen to audio books first because it gives me wider options as I am able to listen to them whenever I want or where ever I am; for instance, when I am driving or commuting to work. Or even when the light is dim and I cannot read paper works or before bed my eyes are bored, I can listen to audio books. • Moreover, I can store and carry lots of audio books whenever I want to go like vacations or trips while I cannot carry more than 2 or 3 books at the same time because of their weight. • There are lots of new applications in the market that present audio books with your favorite celebrity's voice which makes it more engaging

Environment: Concerns and Issues(2 blue)

1	• I personally agree and think that it is government's duty. First because, the first responsibility of a government is to guarantee the well-being and welfare of the people in the society and one way to achieve this is to conserve the environment. • Moreover, this complex issue demands great financial aids, meticulous plannings and strict regulations and rules and comprehensive supervising and also a great knowledge of management which cannot be done by individuals.

	Moreover, individuals just can change the way they behave they cannot change the overall issues which demands governments actions.

3	- I personally think it is not a good way to protect animals; first it is true that human activities have detrimental effects on animals' lives, but still, we should not take them out of their territory or original habitat. Because in this way we are reducing their chance of survival since we hinder some of their crucial development abilities that just occur in their habitat in close contact with other species. - Moreover, I think building zoos is just for financial profits and the owners just think about the money they receive from selling tickets or attracting tourists and they think of it as a prosperous business not a way of conserving wild animals. Animals are in danger due to human activities and people must help them By building them /survive the competitive environment due to food scarcity.

Agree/ Disagree

1	- Put at risk not only their lives but also others - Increase the risk of accident - Traffic/ encourage - Ignore the law - Unexperienced/ not follow the rules - More than speed limit irreparable damage
2	- it not a good habit - promote consumerism - bad for environment - bad effect and influence on youngsters

13	• Metabolism will drastically decline and they need more physical activity in order to become in shape and healthy • Moreover, as most of them are retired or do less activities they have promoted a sedentary life style which has detrimental effects not only physical and mental • My father and I she is retired so need physical exercise to become as agile and energetic as I am.
14	• I do not agree • First because I think it is not an accurate way to learn about a country's culture this is something you have to travel and learn and experience by observation • Through movies they might be false or biased or wrong information about one's culture • For instance, in some television shows display a not real image of some country's culture for instance many might think people do not respect women in Muslim countries while the truth is they highly regard and praise them. • Women cannot work/ have the right to drive. • Producers can be subjective for instance sb might be racist and display a dark picture of people of a territory which will frighten other people and mislead them
15	• Decrease the wealth gap and poor people will be provided with proper education or health care which will improve the overall well-being of the society • Which eventually lead to economic and social growth • They will be more considerate and sympathetic therefore will decrease the discriminations and bring harmony to the world and make the society a better place to live

16	• Everything pales in comparison to money and power • It gives you a wider life style options like luxury vacations or cars or houses • Also, you can buy whatever you want and you have control and influence and this is the key to success • While many say that having a good relationship or education is success I should say that as a person that graduated from a prestigious university and a great fiancé I do not consider myself successful because I do not have any money or power.
17	• New obligation new people • challenge
18	• give them courage to stand up for their rights • take actions against unfairness • they are involved in charity events which will encourage them to be a better person in the society
20	• History repeat we see the result of their choices while current people's choices can be demonstrated in the future and is unreliable • Today are people more knowledgeable and experienced and smarter rather than past and we are all in the same problems and challenges better relate
